EVENTS IN MEXICO RELIEVE TENSION

Washington Pleased with Latest Developments in Trouble Zone.

President Wilson Reiterates Attitude of Peace and Friendliness.

EARLY ADJUSTMENT PROBABLE

Mexican Minister Expresses Faith in Uncle Sam's Judgment—Bryan's Comment Now Optimistic. Wilson Discovers Plot.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Distinct relief was apparent in official circles here today over the course of events in Mexico. The statement of Frederico Gamboa, the new Mexican minister of Foreign Relations that he had "great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States," holding the conviction that the difficulties between the two countries, "soon would be adjusted," produced a very favorable impression in administration circles. Secretary Bryan commented optimistically on it, and White House officials also were pleased.

President Wilson pointed out during the day to callers what seemed to him conspicuous efforts on the part of some people unknown to him, through published misrepresentations, to involve the United States in intervention.

He reiterated that the attitude of this government toward Mexico in the present situation was one of peace and friendliness solely.

Lind Arrives Safely.

The safe arrival in Mexico City of John Lind, personal representative and officially designated adviser to the American embassy, ended some tense moments in the situation. Administration officials tonight looked forward hopefully to a favorable reception of their efforts to suggest measures of peace in ending the struggle between the contending factions in Mexico.

With the air cleared of rumors of hostility in the Mexican capital to Mr. Lind's presence there, officials were disposed to believe the programme of the American government would be carried out quietly, and in such manner as seemed most expedient to Mr. Lind and the embassy at Mexico City.

Americans Not Endangered.

Capt. Capeheart, of the battleship Michigan, which proceeded last Thursday from Vera Cruz to Ciudad Del Carmen as the result of a complaint to the State Department by Mrs. Phoebe H. Hearst that the rebels were threatening American life and property in the region of her ranch near that place, has reported that "American subjects are not in danger; American subjects have not been threatened; and American subjects and foreign subjects have received proper protection from the Mexican authorities."

Great Britain Nettled.

London, Aug. 11.—The British government, nettled by the comment of certain American newspapers concerning Great Britain's recognition of President Huerta, declares that the comment is based on a misconception of facts. It also repudiates the insinuation that the influence of powerful financial interests was used in bringing about recognition. In a statement issued today the government says:

"The recognition of President Huerta was the recognition of a Provisional President pending an election. It was done at the advice of the British minister to Mexico as being likely to assist in the restoration of order—an important consideration in view of the large British interests involved."

The French and Germans also recognized President Huerta after a reception by him of the whole diplomatic party at which a congratulatory speech was made in their behalf by the American ambassador.

Lind Installs Himself

Mexico City, August 11.—Former Governor John Lind, the personal envoy of President Wilson in Mexico City, installed himself today in temporary offices at the United States embassy as unofficial adviser to the American charge d'affaires, Nelson O'Shaughnessy. Mr. Lind passed several hours in close conference with the charge d'affaires, discussing the difficulties of the Mexican nation.

Mr. Lind was an early riser this morning. The sun had not mounted high over Popocatepelt mountain before he was astir. He took a stroll through the park in front of his hotel, and down San Francisco avenue before the shutters were removed from the store windows.

"Moving Day" for Wilson

A few hours later an embassy automobile called at the hotel and conveyed Mr. Lind to the embassy of the United States, where, to the accompaniment of the hammering of carpenters in adjoining rooms where they were preparing the household goods of Henry Lane Wilson, the former American ambassador here, for shipment to the United States, the "adviser" entered upon his duties.

Dr. William Bayard Hale, who no longer retained his identity as the confidential envoy of President Wilson, called at the embassy today, and held a long conference with Former Governor Lind and Mr. O'Shaughnessy. No one at the conference would state what the first steps of the pacification plan were to be or when they were to be taken.

Frederico Gamboa, the new Mexican secretary for Foreign Relations, speaking today with regard to Mr. Lind's mission said:

"I have great faith in the reasonableness of the judgment of the United States and I have the conviction that the difficulties between Mexico and the United States soon will be adjusted."

MAY IMPEACH GOVERNOR

Frawley Committee's Report Adopted by Legislature, Embodies Serious Allegations Against the Empire State Executive.

Albany, N. Y., August 12.—By a vote of 64 to 30 the Assembly passed shortly before 1 o'clock this morning the motion of Assemblyman Levy to consider today the resolution to impeach the Governor. The House adjourned at 12:55 A. M., until 11 A. M., Tuesday.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 12.—The report of the Frawley Legisatilve committee charging Governor Sulzer with having diverted campaign contributions to his own private use, was adopted by the Legislature early today, and a resolution to impeach him for "wilful and corrupt conduct in office, and for high crimes and misdemeanors," was offered in the Assembly by Majority Leader Levy.

The conclusions of the Frawley committee embodied in its representations to the Legislature are that Governor Sulzer falsified under oath his campaign contribution account, divested of these contributions to the purchase of stocks, speculated in stock at the time that, as Governor, he was earnestly pressing legislation against the New York Stock Exchange, punished legislators who opposed him for vetoing their bills, traded executive approval of bills for support of his direct primary measure, and did everything in his power to conceal proof and obstruct the Frawley committee's efforts to bring it to light.

Public Interests Demand Action.

"We submit to the Senate and Assembly," the report recites, "that the facts stated are sufficiently serious in character, and are so violative of the laws of the State, and the rules of fitness for conduct in high office, that the public interests demand some action in reference thereto, whether through the exercise of powers of the Legislature or by referring facts and evidence to other duly constituted officers charged with duties in respect thereof."

It is recommended that the Legislature take steps to punish for contempt in refusing to testify, Louis A. Sarecky, who acted as Mr. Sulzer's confidential secretary during teh campaign and Frederick L. Colwell, who is alleged to have been the Governor's representative in some of the stock transactions. Mr. Colwell is referred to as "the friend and dummy of William Sulzer in certain Wall Street dealings."

Truth Withheld, Says Report

"During the time of these hearings and investigations," the report proceeds, "William Sulzer, as governor, has done everything in his power to withhold the truth and obstruct the production of evidence and the course of justice. At this instance, and direction both Sarecky his secretary, Colwell, his dummy, and Harris and Fuller, his brokers, have refused to testify before the committee. His influence in the promotion of Sarecky to an important and lucrative position in the State Hospital commission as deportation agent—substituting an inexperienced young stenographer, for an experienced physician in that position—should only be a reward for Sarecky's silence in protecting the Governor from damaging disclosures.

Made False Statement.

"Governor Sulzer made a false public statement, when, on July 30th, 1913,

Freight Rate Clans Gathered for Fray

Raleigh, N. C., August 11.—No official statement has been made as to just what programme will be observed tomorrow for the consideration of the freight rate preposition from the railroads for the settlement of inter-State rate discriminations charged, but the statement was made at the executive offices of the Governor this afternoon that it is expected that all the Just Freight Rate Association members who come to Raleigh at the call of President Tate, of the association, will be welcomed to the conference with the Governor, Corporation Commission, Legislative Freight Rate Commission and the Council of State.

Then the whole matter will be thoroughly discussed in open session and later the State officials may go into executive session and finally determine just what disposition to make of the proposition. There is to be a meeting of the members of the Just Freight Rate Association at 10 o'clock and the conference with the State officials will follow at noon or thereabouts.

It is difficult to forecast just what the result of the conference will be. Many believe that the proposition will not be acceptable and that the whole matter will go to the Legislature as an open question for dealing with the railroads. There are many others who believe that the pending proposition, in the main, will be accepted with the understanding that the State authorities will be under no obligation to not

PERTURBED BY SLOW WORK ON THE TARIFF

Democrats Attempt to Hasten Consideration of the Measure.

INFORMAL CONFERENCE HELD

Meeting of Senate Majority Leaders With the Opposition Forces Without Definite Results. Schedules Discussed.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Democratic leaders in the Senate are considerably perturbed over the failure to make progress on the tariff bill, and for several days informal conferences have been held with Progressive Republicans and regular Republican leaders in the hope that some means to hasten consideration of the measure might be found. It was stated tonight, however, that nothing definite had been accomplished.

For the purpose of sounding Republican sentiment, Democratic leaders have inquired what progress could be made on the tariff, should it be agreed definitely that the Senate would not take up the currency bill at the present session. No assurances, it was reported, were given as to a definite time for voting on the tariff, but it was asserted by minority leaders that such an assurance undoubtedly would lead to earlier action on the tariff.

Certain suggestions also have been made as to possible amendments affecting wheat, barley and other agricultural rates, but minority members were not disposed to bargain, because they could receive no assurances of conference action on amendments of this character.

The informal negotiations gave rise to a rumor that currency legislation would not be insisted upon at the special session, but this was declared to be entirely without foundation in so far as the views of the President and a majority of the Democratic Senators were concerned.

Meanwhile consideration of the bill drags on. Today little progress was made, several paragraphs of the metal schedule being under discussion, chiefly lead and cast iron pipe, which the Senate Finance committee transferred to the free list striking out the House rate of 12 per cent was discussed by Senator Clarke, of Arkansas. He said this product was so controlled by combinations that unfair prices were artificially maintained. He urged that a free market be given to foreign manufacturers to break up the controlling American combination.

Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, Democrat, criticised the cotton manufacturers of New England in a tariff speech today, in which he declared that New England had not been discriminated against. He characterized as false the charge that tariff reduction would ruin the textile industry there.

"The cotton manufacturers have taken the highest protection and paid pauper wages," he said. "They are compelled by statute to work humane hours and conduct their business on human lines; and not one has voluntarily reduced the hours of labor. They seek to control the government to prevent labor legislation, escape just taxes, to control the police and inferior courts, and secure military aid for the suppression of strikes. They secured special commodity rates for their goods and other preferences from railroads. They oppose the election of Democrats by coercing their employes, and they make inordinate profits at present tariff rates. It is a question whether one side in the development of this kind is best for any community.

"Thousands of adult operatives work for $7 a week, and live under wretched conditions; the death rate in our New England mill cities is the highest in the United States. It is certain that the cotton industry of New England should not receive any special consideration in the pending bill due to past conduct.

"In a recent contest in New England for United States Senator, certain Democratic members of the legislature chanced to be employes of a certain great textile corporation. They were waited upon at their homes and 'requested' not to vote for the caucus candidate. They were not threatened with discharge, but the implication was very plain. What sort of a claim have men like this to special favors at the hands of a Democratic Congress?"

Though Senator Hollis did not say so, the reference was taken by other Senators to be the recent New Hampshire contest in which he was elected after a deadlock.

Because of absence of many Senators, action on important paragraphs in the metal schedule were passed over. Lead rates were taken up.

Senator Thomas, of Colorado, said that the American Smelting & Refining Company controlled the lead market and the majority of the lead mines and that he was not in favor of giving any due except such as was necessary for revenue purposes to the product controlled by that concern. Senator Smoot replied that the American Smelting & Refining Company did not own any of the lead mines in Utah and that it was the policy of that concern not to own the mines. The ore, Senator Thomas said, had to be sold through the American company, however, because it controlled the market.

"My prediction is, however," said Senator Thomas, "that when the American Smelting & Refining Company finds it necessary to take over the Utah mines, it will do so."

Pittsburg, Aug. 11.—The 11th biennial convention of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen was opened here this morning with a good attendance of delegates from all parts of the country.

VACANT SEAT IN SENATE A PROBLEM

Question of Appointing a Successor to the Late Senator Johnston.

MUCH DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

Alabama Governor Has No Power to Appoint the Successor, According to Democratic Lawyers in the Senate

Washington, August 11.—Telegrams were sent tonight to Democratic leaders in Alabama, by Senator Overman, acting chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, advising them that Governor O'Neal, in the opinion of the Democratic lawyers in the Senate had no power now to appoint a successor to the late Senator Joseph F. Johnston.

The message added that a majority of the lawyer-senators held the Governor could call a special election at once, but qualified this by adding that there was much difference of opinion in the Judiciary committee as to whether it was necessary to call the Legislature into session to authorize a special election. Governor O'Neal, Senator Bankhead and others had asked for an opinion from the Judiciary committee as to the quickest way of filling the vacancy under the terms of the recent constitutional amendment providing for the direct election of Senators.

Alabama Code Interpreted

The main difference of opinion in the committee arose over the interpretation of that section of the Alabama code which authorizes the Governor to call elections to fill the vacancies in certain specified State offices "and such other offices as may be proveded for by law."

Some held that the language of this section was broad enough to cover the office of Senator; others disputed the position contending

Senator Overman's telegram read:

"By new amendment Governor is charged with duty of issuing writes of election to fill the vacancy, but has no power to fill by appointment until the Legislature authorizes him to do so.

"By sub-section 5, section 439, your code, it is provided that special elections are to be held in cases other than those elsewhere specified in the section which are or may be provided by law. The following sections direct that all special elections shall be held on such date as the Governor may direct. This is the general opinion of the Democratic lawyers of the Senate; that is, that the Governor can call a special election, and that the candidate elected would be entitled to his seat. However, there is much division of opinion in the Judiciary committee, some holding to the opinion that the Governor cannot call an election until the Legislature is called together and takes action in this matter."

The Problem Discussed

The question was discussed at a full meeting of the Judiciary committee. The Democratic members consulted with practically every lawyer among the Democratic Senators. It was stated after the meetings that the unanimous opinion was that the Governor had no power to fill the vacancy until the Legislature met and authorized him to do so.

Some of the Senators viewed the day's discussion as indicative of delay in filling the seat. They argued that it would consume much time for the holding of a special session of the Alabama Legislature, should Governor O'Neal decide upon that course, and said the selection of a Senator by a special election without a meeting of the Legislature might result in a contest and delay in seating the Senator. It was suggested that an attempt be made to enter into an agreement with the Republicans in case the death of another Senator should occur during the session. Republican Senators approached on the subject, however, did not give the idea their approval.

New York, Aug. 11.—Bishop William Tufnell Sabine, D. D., of the Reformed Episcopal church, died this afternoon at his home here. He was 74 years old. The bishop suffered a stroke of apoplexy several weeks ago, and this was aggravated by recent penumonia symptoms.

MULHALL AGAIN TESTIFIES

Ex-Lobbyist Begins Second Recital of Experiences in Influencing Legislation—House Committee Makes Probe.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Martin M. Mulhall began the second recital of the experiences in influencing legislation today before the investigators on the House side of the Capitol. The greater part of his testimony was a repetition of matter which he had already presented to the Senate committee.

After a brief general examination in course of which the witness objected strenuously to testifying from his recollection without the aid of the voluminous documents which he presented to the Senate committee, the House committee began the detailed probe of the Mulhall charges. The committee intends to consider systematically the mention of Congress, employes of Congress and other public men referred to in the correspondence, and examine the witness relating to each individual.

Following this plan all of the Mulhall letters relating to Representative Richard Bartholdt, of Missouri, were placed in the record today, and Mulhall was questioned about them. The letters related to the activity of Mulhall in securing assistance from Bartholdt in preventing a report on an eight-hour labor bill from the Labor committee, and in supporting the Littlefield anti-pilotage bill ,which the National Association of Manufacturers favored. The letters and Mulhall's testimony told of arranging to secure the support of Bartholdt and other members for the anti-pilotage bill, by working to hold up in the House Judiciary committee a bill for bidding the interstate shipment of intoxicating liquors, to which Mr. Bartholdt was opposed.

Mulhall said that through the National council for the industrial defense the Citizens' Industrial Association of St. Louis was "always put in motion to assist Bartholdt in his campaigns."

"He was always friendly with the organization," the witness added.

"Do you think he was friendly because of his natural attitude as a lawyer and a legislator?" asked Chairman Garrett.

"He was friendly, I believe," answered Mulhall, "because of the political influence that could be brought to bear in his district."

He added, however, that he believed Mr. Bartholdt did not abandon his personal convictions to support the interests of the National Association of Manufacturers.

A letter from Representative Bartholdt earlier placed in the records denied that the association had ever influenced his vote.

The committee tomorrow will continue the taking of testimony relating to men now in Congress. Representatives Burke, of Pennsylvania; Calder, of New York; Fairchild, of New York; McDermott, of Illinois; Sherley, of Kentucky, and Webb, of North Carolina, will be taken up in order.

A. E. Marshall, of Dayton, O., who wrote a letter which Martin M. Mulhall read to the Senate Lobby committee, saying Governor Cox, of Ohio, when a member of Congress, had been delaying the selection of a Federal building site in Dayton for personal reasons, sent a letter to the committee today disclaiming any reflection on Cox. John G. Swazy, of Maine, sent a letter denying having had any relations with Mulhall.

At the request of counsel for the National Association of Manufacturers the committee subpoenaed H. E. Mills, of Rachine, Wis., and H. P. Towne and S. E. Meade, of New York, to testify regarding the movement for a tariff commission.

James A. Emery, Washington representative of the Manufacturers, continued his testimony.

Emery denied the organizations he represented had originated or led the movement for the workmen's compensation bill in Congress. The committee adjourned until tomorrow morning.

CURRENCY BILL DEFENDED

Representative Glass Makes Vigorous Speech Before Democratic Caucus Favoring the Administration's Measure

Washington, August 11.—A vigorous defense of the administration currency bill by Representative Carter Glass, one of its authors, was received with general applause and support in the first session today, of the caucus of the Democratic members of the House before which the measure is to be worked over, and its fate determined.

Representative Glass's speech followed an unsuccessful attempt by the "insurgent" Democrats of the Banking and Currency committee to have the caucus thrown open to the public. Led by Representatives Neely, of Kansas, and Ragsdale, of South Carolina, members of the committee; Representative Henry, of Texas, and others, the advocates of open caucus mustered 63 votes, against 119.

The currency bill was laid before the caucus by Representative Glass, as chairman of the committee, with the endorsement of 11 Democratic members. Representative Neely and Representative Ragsdale and Representative Eagle, of Texas, withheld their approval. Mr. Glass' speech in explanation of the bill, which began as a general statement of the purposes and hopes of its framers, was turned into an emphatic defense of the measure when the "insurgents" insisted that it should make provision for the issuance of currency upon warehouse receipts for corn, wheat and cotton.

Speculation would receive the active support of the government, he declared, if these amendments were put into the bill. The legitimate demands of farming communities, he said, for money to carry on ordinary farming communities, he said, for money to carry on ordinary farming and commercial operations were fully covered by the measure and to make warehouse receipts for cotton or grain a legal security for the issuance of the

FERDINAND MAKES PATHETIC ADDRESS

Thanks Soldiers for Bravery in War Against "Treacherous Allies."

STILL HOPES FOR VICTORY

Obliged to Sign Treaty Because of Overwhelming Odds and Exhausted Army, Says Vanquished King.

Sofia, Aug. 11.—King Ferdinand today issued a pathetic address to the army. In it he thanked his soldiers for the bravery and devotion they had displayed in the war against the "treacherous allies" and declared that their efforts would have been crowned with success, "had not a series of unforeseen political circumstances paralyzed our strength."

"Pressed on all sides," the address continued, "we were obliged to sign the treaty of Bucharest, our country not being in a condition to struggle against five neighbors. Exhausted and tired, but not conquered, we had to furl our glorious standards until better days. Tell your children and your grandchildren about the gallantry of the Bulgarian soldiers and prepare them to complete one day the glorious work you began."

Bulgarians in Need.

New York, Aug. 11.—The recent war in southeastern Europe, ended by the signing of the treaty of Bucharest, has brought much suffering and want to the people of Bulgaria. Conditions are so bad that Rev. Elmer E. Count, superintendent of Methodist missions for Bulgaria, has sent a cablegram from that country to H. L. Bridgman, of the Brooklyn Standard Union, asking for help. The message follows:

"There is great and appalling need among the thousands of refugees who have fled to Bulgaria to escape the ravages of the cruel war prosecuted by Greeks and Turks in Macedonia. Scores of villages and hundreds of homes have been destroyed, and misery, want and dire distress are to be found on all sides. Bulgaria appeals to benevolent Americans for sympathy and material aid."

Germany's Position.

Cologne, Aug. 11.—The Berlin correspondent of the Cologne Gazette says that the telegrams exchanged Saturday between Emperor William and King Charles, of Rumania, felicitating each other on the signing of the Balkan peace treaty, plainly indicated Germany's position toward the Bucharest compact. There is no necessity, the correspondent adds, for Germany to participate in any effort to force an alteration of the treaty, which also is true with regard to the other European powers and this means that any European campaign against the treaty is out of the question.

BIGGEST REVENUE RECEIPTS

Whiskey, Beer and Tobacco Break the Government Records

Washington, D. C., August 11.—The internal revenue records were broken during the last fiscal year ending June 30th, when they reached the total of $344,424,453. Never before in the history of the country has Uncle Sam piled up so much money in his strong boxes from the taxes on whiskey, beer, tobacco, etc.

Of the total amount, whiskey contributed $157,542,000, there having been 143,220,000 gallons manufactured and consumed. The 65,246,000 barrels of beer, ale, etc., brought in $65,246,000. The cigarette tax amounted to $17,846,000, there being over 14 billion cigarettes smoked. Other forms of tobacco and playing cards showed increase.

The increased consumption of intoxicants is interesting in the face of the fact that there was a decrease in the number of saloons of 21,554 and a decrease of 600 in the number of wholesale houses.

The total increase in revenue as compared with the high previous record of 1911 was $21,898,000. Of the total, North Carolina paid over ten millions.

I. T. U. CONVENTION

Administrationists Won Signal Victory During Yesterday's Session

Nashville, August 11.—The administrationists won what was regarded as a signal victory early in the proceedings of the International Typographical Convention, called to order here this morning for a six days' session, when a motion to take from the president and give to the convention the right to name a committee on appeals was lost by a vote of 170 to 27.

The various committees were announced today by President Lynch and will probably begin to report tomorrow. The law committee tonight heard arguments for and against the Seattle plan, which provides for the re-organization of the governing body of the I. T. U., vesting in an executive committee of 20 the powers now held by the officers of the association. This is set for order Thursday at 2 o'clock.

Montgomery, Ala., August 11.—Orders were issued today by the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company putting into effect at midnight tonight the two and one-half cent passenger rate on various divisions of the road in Alabama. The company has fought this rate through all the State and Federal courts since 1906, a decision being rendered by Judges Grubb and Pardee some days ago against the company. The order today indicates that no appeal will be taken to the United States Supreme Court.

Won Great Game for Reds—Giants Made Red Series Three Out of Four—Plays Brooklyn Dodgers Today

The Giants closed their engagement with the Cincinnati Reds, making it three out of four, Sunday afternoon with a victory, winning an exciting and close game by a five to four tally. Rube Marquard added laurels to his record by pitching a masterful game. The Giants go to Brooklyn for a single game today.

Brooklyn hit Harmon hard in Sunday's engagement and won by a three to nothing score, the final game of the series.

The only National game scheduled for yesterday was a double bill between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. The affair was divided, the Reds taking the initial contest, while the late matinee went to the Pirates. Lemuel Ames held the Pirates to four hits in the first engagement, but George Suggs was hammered for 17 safeties in the latter event.

REBUILDING IMAN'S FACE.

Disfigured by Circular Saw, Surgeons Patch Up Scars.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Aug. 11.—Having recovered from a frightful accident in which he was badly disfigured, Chas. E. Smith, a well-to-do young mill man of Ayden, is undergoing a remarkable operation at the McDaniel Memorial Hospital here.

Several weeks ago Smith's nose and much of the flesh of his face was cut off by a circular saw in his saw mill near the Pitt county town. A man of splendid health and in good condition, he survived the great loss of blood and was brought to Kinston several hours later. He lingered between life and death for some days, and was gradually brought around until he could be sent back home to regain his strength.

The surgeons at the McDaniel Memorial Hospital are now building Smith a nose and patching up his face until his countenance will offer a very presentable appearance. He will bear scars until his death, of course, but these will not be in the least repulsive, and his nose will be such a perfect arrangement of flesh, cartilage and bone that it will be hard to detect the imitation, it is said. His nose was almost entirely gone, and to furnish a foundation for a new one the necessary material was cut from his forehead into the proper pattern and left attached at one point, where the two arteries which feed the nose have their course. To replace that taken from his forehead flesh and bone were grafted from Smith's arm, and this in turn will be replaced by nature. Smith was an unusually fine looking young man.

The operation was commenced several weeks ago, and only one or two small details remain to be finished before the doctors are through with the patient. The operation is not unknown, but is a most difficult one and is seldom heard of. Dr. J. M. Parrott is the surgeon who is putting the nice touches on the job of restoring Smith's good looks.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Joe Jackson batted .500 in both Saturday's and Sunday's games with Washington, in the first going up four times for two safeties, and visiting the swatting station twice on Sunday for a single hit. Cobb in Saturday's game, failed to fatten his average at all, on the contrary, falling back a single point, with a three-one record for the day. Jackson shows a net gain of three points in the race since Friday.

Seven Youngsters Stars of Season

Plump the single-barreled question at any manager of intelligence and a strict regard for the truth:

"What's the touchest place you have to fill?"

And back will come the managerial response, "Gimme the pitchers."

That's the direction in which every manager is bending his energies now—to secure a supply of young men who will be competent hurlists to take the place of the brigade of veterans whose presence in the news will soon be largely confined to the annual October reunions known as world series.

When the eight clubs bossed by bulky Ban Johnson started the season they were slathered with pitchers. Of these groups toted about the country for various periods only seven have advanced to the role of stars. Of the seven not one is a high priced individual, and all of them were overlooked when the glowing tales of camp life in the Spring were spread before bugdom.

The residential districts which these young successful hurlers populate, together with their identities, reads something after this fashion:

Washington—Joe Boehling and Joe Engle.
Athletics—Leslie Bush.
Chicago—Clarence Albert Russell.
Detroit—George Dauss.
St. Louis—Albert Leverenz.
New York—Raymond Keating.

In the dazzling career of the brotherhood one reads striking tales such as only the truthful epics of our pastime can depict. None of these lads was weighed in the golden scales of reputation. None of them added to the high cost of living by bringing prices that were golden and gigantic. They all trotted along on their own efforts and won their way to the front because they had the stuff, as the delicate and illuminative parlance of our national frolic terms it.

ROYAL BAKING COMPANY

Established Enterprise Under New Name—Promising Business

Elsewhere in today's paper will be found the authorized announcement that Messrs. J. Fred Russ and Jos. B. Fox, proprietors of what will be known in the future as the Royal Baking Co., have acquired by purchase and taken over the well known Warren's Steam Bakery and Ice Cream plant at No. 22 North Front street, one of the oldest and best known business institutions in Wilmington and will conduct the same in future at the same stand. They assure the public of a high-class service to all patrons and will employ skilled workmen only, emphasizing purity of every ingredient entering into their products which they propose to make the standard in Wilmington.

Mr. Russ, senior member of the firm, has been with Mr. Warren for 17 years; in fact, he has grown up with the store and a large measure of its past success has been due to his indefatigable energy, his devotion to business strictly and his personal popularity in Wilmington. Mr. Fox is a well known and clever young business man, a son-in-law of Capt. John W. Harper, of the Harper line of steamers, with which he has been connected for the past several years. They will be a strong team in business and the Royal Baking Co., under their management promises to take first rank in providing the Wilmington people with the "staff of life" for years to come. A number of improvements in the bakery and plant are contemplated, due announcement of which will be made later.

CONVENTION OF EAGLES.

Mr. William J. Bellamy Attended Meeting in Baltimore.

William J. Bellamy, Esq., returned Sunday from Baltimore, where he attended the 15th annual convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. He reports a most interesting meeting. He went as a representative of the North Carolina Aerie, No. 1171. Among the matters of interest to North Carolina Eagles considered by the National Council was the adjustment of the insurance relations between the North Carolina aeries and the State Insurance Commissioner. The National body decided to protect all members of this State to the full extent of the resources of the order. While away Mr. Bellamy also looked after some professional matters.

Big Jeff Tesreau Champion Starter

John McGraw has called on Jeff Tesreau oftener to start battles this saeson than any other member of the Giant pitching staff. Up to August 1st the "Little Napoleon" had given the pitching assignment to the big spit ball artist 25 times. Jeff only went the route on eight occasions, but on many of the times he was dericked, he was lifted to allow a pinch hitter to be inserted into the proceedings, and not because he was not performing to the satisfaction of his commander.

Christy Mathewson has opened on the firing line in 22 skirmishes for the Giants this year, anr has lasted through 17 engagements, which gives him a finishing average of .773. Matty quit twice because he had to, twice because his team had an enormous lead, and once because McGraw wished to shove Harry McCormick in as a pinch hitter.

The club that has compelled Matty to retire under fire is St. Louis, the team that handed him his first beating 12 years ago, when he first became famous. The Cardinals may be justly proud of their showing against "Big Six" this year. They have received 5 of the 13 passes Matty has issued this season, Ed Konetchy and Miller Huggins each obtaining two and Steve Evans one.

Rube Marquard has started in 20 engagements and has gone the route in 13; Al Demaree has seen seven of his 16 starts starts through; Lemuel Ames managed to complete only two out of five tussels, and George Wiltse has started two games, both of which he failed to see to the finish.

WITH THE MOVIES

Two gripping dramas and a thrilling tragedy constitute the bill at the Bijou this afternoon and night. Interesting from the first scene until the flicker of the last film, the pictures scintillate with comedy, pathos and thrills and heart throbs that cannot be reckoned by feet of films. Edison contributes a heart interest story in "Bread Upon the Waters," and Essany furnishes one of the ever-breezy Western tales, with a lesson. A tragedy of the desert is "Made a Coward." Selig, and depicts thrillingly a story of the sandy wastes. These pictures, shown at the Bijou, which is ever cool and comfortable, will prove a delight to both to local people and the visitors in Wilmington. The price is only 5 cents.

The Grand's Offering.

The Grand is ready to greet the firemen in royal manner and will this week offer one of the best bills it has ever set before the public eye. Today's great bill at this handsome, ever comfortable theatre, where the price is always tiny, 5 cents, will be a true indicator of what will be presented this week. Today's bill will offer two films of the hour. One is a great problem photoplay, dealing with "The Way of the Underworld," while the other is the Biograph's "In Diplomatic Circles," revolving around the American-Japanese controversy. A number of noted and well known public characters are introduced and there is a sensational, stirring one. A notable cast will appear and this will add great strength to the story. A notable Selig is also a top-liner for today in "The Only Chance." It is a stirring tale of railroading and possesses a beautiful love theme.

ONE INNING SAVED MACKMEN

Cicotte Had a Weak Seventh and Athletics Used It—Naps Won from Senators—Tigers Won from Boston—Yanks Won

All that saved the Athletics from their third consecutive defeat yesterday afternoon was a weak inning in the seventh by Cicotte, twirling an otherwise airtight game for the Chicago White Sox. The Sox got an early lead of five runs which they held until the seventh when the heavy artillery on the Mack line-up fell on the Chicago twirler for hits good for a half dozen markers.

The Cleveland Naps swapped scores with the Senators yesterday. Sunday's game went to the Senators by a six to one count and yesterday afternoon the score was simply a reversal, the Naps getting an early lead and adding much weight to it in the closing session. Mitchell pitched a bang-up game for the Naps, while Engel was hit easily.

Cobb's two hits drove in three runs for the Tigers yesterday and aided muchly in winning the game from the Boston Red Sox by a six to two score. Detroit thus made it two out of three for the series with the champions.

The New York Yankees, with their new $16,000 infielder, Fred Maisel, in the game, won another game from the St. Louis Browns by a six to two score.

Athletics Won

Philadelphia, August 11. — Bad pitching in the seventh inning cost Chicago a defeat by Philadelphia here today 8 to 5.

GRAND CIRCUIT RACES.

Opening Meet at State Fair Grounds Rather Tame.

Detroit, Aug. 11.—Racing at the opening of the Grand Circuit meet at the State fair grounds today was rather tame. The only real contest was in the Board of Commerce stake for 2:16 pacers, which went five heats before Margothal was returned a winner. Dillon Axworthy, by far the best of the ten starters, won the trotting division of the matron stake; Tilly Tipton, the pacing division, and Lord Dewey the 2:15 trot, all in straight heats.

It took Margothal some time to get a-going in the board of commerce stake, but when she finally found her stride she made a show of her opponents. Del Rey was drawn at the conclusion of the second heat. Holly Brand led all the way in the second and third heats and then McDonald got Margothal in action. The two raced like a team a dozen lengths ahead of the field in the fourth heat until the top of the stretch was reached. Here Hal forged ahead. In the final round Margot Hal was a block ahead all the way and was slowed down to a walk at the end.

WILMINGTON BEACH

Announcement was made yesterday that a contract had been given to Mr. J. M. Woolard, the well known contractor, for the clearing up, draining and leveling of Wilmington Beach property, preparatory to the laying out of streets and boulevards and construction of the board walk and other improvements guaranteed by the Wilmington Beach Corporation. A large force of men and teams start to work at once to transform this property into what its promoters say is destined to be the most up-to-date beach on the South Atlantic coast.

Mr. William E. Price, of Chicago, who has become associated with the Wilmington Beach Corporation, arrived in Wilmington Saturday and will take full charge of the management and development work. Mr. Price has had wide e perience in this line of work, having been connected for a number of years with the New York Development Company, of New York City, which was one of the principal companies in the construction work and development of Atlantic City and other beach resorts.

THE HERO TODAY; HOBO TOMORROW

The well known game of life is more or less noted for its sudden shifts and its elastic angles, but in this respect it's a piker's league compared to baseball.

The hero of today in this game is all too often the hobo of tomorrow, and 1913 has been no exception to the rule. There are any number of glittering examples furnished by the comparative data of 1912 and 1913; largely as follows:

JAKE STAHL

1912—Manager of flag-winning world series champions.
1913—Released like a utility busher in mid-season.

CHARLEY HERZOG

1912—World series star; led both teams at bat and in the field.
1913—On the bench.

BOSTON RED SOX

1912—World series champions.
1913—Struggling in the second division of their own league.

FRANK L. CHANCE

1912—Leading a driving fight to the edge of another pennant.
1913—Managing a tail-end team.

ED WALSH

1912—Still the iron man of the game; hero of 58 battles and a city series.
1913—Unable to work two games a month; lost in the shuffle.

FACE COVERED WITH PIMPLES

Suffered Three Years. Used Resinol. Now Not A Pimple To Be Seen.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 27, 1912. "I had been troubled for the past three years with pimples which completely covered my face and neck. The pimples would come out, fester up and cause me to pick at them, feeling very uncomfortable. I tried most all kinds of facial creams, but with no effect. I tried a sample of Resinol Soap and Ointment and noticed instant relief. I bought Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment, and began the treatment. After using two jars of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, there was not a pimple to be seen, and now my face is as smooth as if there was never a pimple on it." (Signed) Albert Greenburg, 4167 Frankford Ave.

For eighteen years Resinol has been a favorite doctor's prescription and household remedy for itching troubles, skin eruptions, dandruff, red, rough faces and hands, sores, piles, etc. Stops itching instantly. Sold by all druggists. Resinol Soap, 25c., Ointment, 50c. and $1.00, but you can try them without cost—just write for liberal samples to Dept. 18-M, Resinol Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

BAILEY AND COLLECTORSHIP

New Collector Back from Washington, Confirmed, Bonded and Commissioned—Does Not Talk About New Office Force

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 11.—Just back from Washington where he was confirmed by the Senate as collector of internal revenue and duely executed his bond and saw his official commission in due form, J. W. Bailey was being showered with congratulations today and plied with questions as to his plans for assuming the duties of the collectorship and inducting his deputies into office.

Mr. Bailey would make no statement of his plans except to say that every thing is ready for the transfer of the office. Wheeler Martin, the retiring collector, is expected here today or tomorrow and then as soon as an officer can come from Washington to audit accounts and formally put through the transfer, the collectorship will shift from Wheeler Martin, Republican, to J. W. Bailey, Democrat, and Mr. Bailey will begin his work of reorganizing the office and field forces, the number of deputy collectors to be very greatly increased, it is understood, because of the added task of collecting the Federal income tax, which it is expected to run up to something like 75 million dollars for the whole country.

Mr. Bailey would not make any statement as to what changes in the office and field forces he will make except to make it clear that neither of the ladies, Mrs. Shipp and Miss Creech, will be molested in the positions they hold and have filled so long and so well. To W. T. Delamar, cashier of the department, who met Mr. Bailey on the street and gave assurances of desire to aid him in any way possible in his work of taking over the offices, Mr. Bailey said that he felt sure that he would be accorded this treatment by all the old force. He laughingly told Mr. Delamar that he had been told in Washington that he (Delamar) had already sold his house preparatory to leaving as though he had little faith in civil service. The cashier hastened to explain that he sold the house more than a year ago but added that he did really have more faith in Mr. Bailey than in civil service.

It is expected that the transfer of the office will be accomplished by August 15th any way. At the same time the South Carolina branch of the collectorship will be divorced from the office here and transferred to the new collector for the South Carolina district, who has been appointed and confirmed and merely awaits the official transfer that will mark the removal of the South Carolina records back to Columbia. So that Mr. Bailey will assume no control of the South Carolina collectorship affairs at all.

Commissioner Young Here

State Commissioner of Insurance James R. Young has gone to Wilmington to deliver an address this week before the State Firemen's convention. He will address the association especially on the importance of attention by the fire departments and town authorities to enforcement of the laws against fire waste, or fire prevention as being mutually beneficial.

He will call the attention of the firemen to the fact that the law requires proper attention by the town authorities and firemen to fire prevention before the insurance companies can be required to pay over to the insurance commissioner the special tax that accumulates the $8,000 or $10,000 firemen's relief fund.

Commissioner of Agriculture W. A. Graham left today for Hillsboro to attend the annual session of the North Carolina Farmers' Alliance in session there this week. The most important matter to come up is the final action for turning over to the Orange county authorities the old State Alliance property at Hillsboro to be used in the establishment of a big public farm life school for the county. Major Graham believes that the proposition will be carried through without any trouble. The property is valued at something like $40,000 and is to be turned over to the county on condition that the school be properly maintained.

The State Department of Education has made a ruling that the 1913 school law for compulsory school attendance provides that any public school district with 5,000 people can appoint its own compulsory attendance officers instead of having them named by the county boards of education no matter whether the town proper in connection with which the district is established has 5,000 inhabitants or not. The issue was raised in the case of Henderson, where there are some less than 5,000 inhabitants in the corporate limits but more than 5,000 in the Henderson school district, which extends beyond the city limits.

Wake Will Defeat Bonds

Wake county votes tomorrow on the proposition for issuing a million dollars bond for road improvement, but there is not considered to be the slightest chance for the bonds to be carried. Only a majority of the votes cast are necessary to assure the bond issue but even this advantage over voting against the regular registration is not expected to save the proposition from defeat. President H. B. Varner, of the North Carolina Good Roads Association, and Dr. Joseph Hyde Pratt, State Geologist, spent the past week in the county canvassing in the interest of the bonds. Many regard the carrying on of a campaign at this time and for so large an amount of bonds merely a waste of time. It is said that if this proposition fails there will be another proposition for $500,000 or $250,000 submitted at the earliest possible time, and it is predicted that either would carry overwhelmingly.

Wake county's school fund for the year ending July 1st aggregated $153,038 with a balance of $1,081. Of this, Raleigh's fund was $63,389. Raleigh paid $49,389 for teachers during the year.

A statement issued by Commissioner of Insurance J. R. Young warns the people of the State against having anything to do with the insurance agencies of B. K. Bessonette and the Providence Insurance Association. He says neither is licensed to do business in this State and that contracts entered into with these concerns cannot be enforced in the State courts.

The State Department of Education is having printed the blanks to be supplied to attendant officers in all parts of the State for serving notices on parents or guardians in prosecutions for non-attendance of their children at the public schools. The State Department proposes to carry on a campaign for the most rigid and effective enforcement of the law.

GAIETY IN FAISON

Many Visitors and Many Receptions in Honor of Them

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Faison, N. C., August 11.—Mrs. Marshall Williams is entertaining a house party in honor of her niece, Miss Louise Phillips, of New York. The guests for the week are Misses Roena, Marguerite and Mary Borden, Mary Dortch and Gaston Dortch, of Goldsboro; Miss Pochahontas Butler, of Washington City; Mr. Robt. Winston, of Raleigh.

Thursday evening Mrs. Williams gave a reception in honor of her visitors. The guests were greeted by Messrs. Hicks, Roland and Marshall Williams, and introduced to the receiving line, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Williams and the members of the house party. Miss Faith Fearrington, of Winston-Salem, escorted the guests to the studio, where Miss Winifred Faison dispensed fruit punch. Miss Elizabeth Hicks led the way to the dining room, where dainty ices were served.

The attractive feature of the evening was a booth, at the end of the long veranda, where Miss Bessie Ireland dressed as a gypsy presided. She was radiant in a dashing costume, which she had worn at Madi Gras in Mobile, with weird light, which held secrets. For hours the young people knelt at her shrine to hear their fortunes, all pronouncing her a wonderful magician. Fully 75 were present.

Thursday noon, Mrs. A. H. Witherington entertained Mrs. Williams' house party at an elaborate course luncheon. On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Witherington, assisted by her sons, Faison and Robt. Witherington, gave a charming porch party.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Z. A. Gibson entertained in honor of her nieces, the Misses Covington, of Laurinburg. Her beautiful new home with its very wide portico, and Spanish pillars, was particularly attractive with lanterns, potted flowers and smilax. In one corner punch was served by Miss Winifred Faison, and still there was room enough for dancing. The entire lower floor was thrown open to the guests, and the Faison people are very glad to have been welcomed into this charming new home. Refreshments were served to 50 or more guests.

Friday evening Misses Martha and Laura Murphy Faison, daughters of Congressman John M. Faison, entertained in honor of their house guests, Miss Catherine Cobb, of Norfolk, Va., and they gave a very large and attractive party to the young people of the town, interesting games were enjoyed and tempting ices served.

Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Faison gave an elaborate course dinner to 30 guests, in honor of their visitors, Misses Ruth Bizzel and Margaret Smith, of Goldsboro.

CONTRACTOR WILLIAMS KILLED

Run Down Near Smithfield While Going Over Construction Work

(Special Star Telegram.)

Fayetteville, N. C., August 11.—C. R. Williams, sub-contractor under the W. Z. Williams Co., who are putting in the concrete at the bridge being thrown across Neuse river as apart of the Atlantic Coast Line's double tracking, was run down and killed by an A. C. How to Heal a Stubborn Abscess

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Do not cover any external sore so as to interfere with perspiration and the formation of protective scabs. Keep it clean and bandaged. If it is a stubborn case, flush your blood with S. S. S. This famous blood purifier works wonders. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be despondent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

This means that all decay, all breaking down of the tissues, is checked and repair work begins. S. S. S. has such a specific influence on all local cells as to preserve their mutual welfare and afford a proper relative assistance to each other. More attention is being given to constructive medicine than ever before, and S. S. S. is the highest achievement in this line.

Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. to-day. You will be astonished at the results. If your abscess is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the Medical Dept., The Swift Specific Co., 187 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC!

I have this day sold the Bakery and Ice Cream Business at No. 22 N. Front St., to Mr. J. F. Russ and Mr. J. B. Fox, and respectfully solicit my former patrons and the public to extend their patronage to the new firm, as I feel assured their service to the public will be equally as good, if not better, than mine, as the experience of 17 years in the business goes with Mr. Russ, and the fine executive ability of Mr. Fox needs no comment from me.

Entered as second-class matter at the postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., under Act of Congress, March 2nd, 1874.

FULL ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT

PUBLISHERS' ANNOUNCEMENT.

THE MORNING STAR, the oldest daily newspaper in North Carolina, is published daily except Monday, at $6 per year, $3 for six months; $1.50 for three months; 50 cents for one month, served by carriers in the city, or by mail.

THE SUNDAY STAR, by mail, one year, $1; six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents.

ADVERTISING RATES may be had on application, and advertisers may feel assured that through the columns of this paper they may reach all Wilmington, Eastern Carolina and contiguous territory in South Carolina.

Obituary sketches, cards of thanks, communications espousing the cause of a private enterprise or a political candidate, and like matter, will be charged at the rate of 10 cents per line to persons carrying a regular account, or, if paid cash in advance, a half rate will be allowed. Announcements of fairs, festivals, balls, hops, picnics, excursions, society meetings, political meetings, etc., will be charged under the same conditions, except so much thereof as may be of news value to readers of the paper, in the discretion of the editors.

TELEPHONES: Business Office, No. 51; Editorial and Local rooms, No. 61. Call either, if the other doesn't answer.

COMMUNICATIONS, unless they contain important news, or discuss briefly and properly subjects of real interest, are not wanted; and, if acceptable in every other way, they will invariably be rejected unless the real name of the author accompanies the same, not necessarily for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith.

ALL DRAFTS, checks, express money orders and postal money orders for the paper should be made payable, and all communications should be addressed to, THE WILMINGTON STAR CO., Wilmington, N. C.

ATLANTA'S OCEAN GATEWAY IS WILMINGTON.

We have observed that considerable fun is being poked at Atlanta on account of her strenuous efforts to be made a port of entry, although that city is two to three hundred miles from any port on the South Atlantic. We admire Atlanta's nerve, and we may as well say her ambition is a reasonable one.

Why does Atlanta want to be made a port of entry? It is because Atlanta does a considerable import business and proposes to do both an export and import business when the Panama canal is open for traffic. Atlanta already appears in the list of interior ports in the reports of the Department of Labor and Commerce. In 1912 Atlanta is credited with imports valued at $277,469, which evidently were entered and on which collections were made at Atlanta. She is credited with no direct exports, but doubtless Atlanta products for export found their way to some of the ports. If not, why not, since Atlanta is very much of a manufacturing city?

Anyhow, Atlanta wants to take advantage of her location to manufacture for export, and she is inviting export manufacturers to go there and take advantage of Atlanta's electrical power and distribution facilities to nearby ports. No doubt, also, Atlanta manufactories sooner or later will do some exporting and importing of their own, and whether she is made a port of entry or not, she will need a port through which to do business with the world. What she needs to do is to link up with the port of Wilmington which furnishes direct rail communication at the nearest point to the steamship highway followed by vessels from all parts of the world.

Atlanta is a city of more than 200,000 population and is rapidly growing because it has a large diversified manufacturing industry. If her manufactures are to increase in volume she will want a larger market and a larger market will add that much more to her manufacturing opportunities. It can be ventured that such an enterprising people will not neglect any of their opportunities, so it would be the life of her to look over the port of Wilmington as the ocean distributing point that is closest to merchant ships going to Europe, South America, the Pacific slope and the Orient. Even the steamships bound in and out of the Gulf of Mexica pass in sight of Frying Pan shoals lightship just off the Cape Fear bar. That is a fact which Atlanta ought to make a note of if she wants to import and export.

Atlanta can export and import with greater facility if she were made a port of entry, because then she would have a collector right at her hand. However, if she is not going to get a collector of her own we will let her use the collector at Wilmington, where she can catch ocean ships on call. If Wilmington would organize an exporting and importing association it would be what Atlanta needs in her importing and exporting business for the future.

It is about time Wilmington were casting her eye way off towards Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Memphis, Knoxville, Nashville, Louisville and the Middle West. This is their port if they only knew it—and if we would realize it right here at Wilmington.

NEW YORK IS SENSITIVE

New York takes too seriously the shafts hurled at her in the debates in Congress. Wall Street has been worked to a finish by some of the orators but that will hardly mar the prestige of one of the world's very greatest financial and commercial centers. New York is either first, or a close second, of the world's greatest commercial centers. She is America's greatest manufacturing city, besides being its metropolis and clearing house for finances and business. She can easily maintain that prestige in spite of the fact that she has it Wall Street and perhaps mainly because she has.

Nevertheless, little old New York is sensitive, which rather shows that the metropolis really is anxious to have the good opinion of the balance of the country. She has her Wall Street, but if there is anything the matter with the street it can easily reform. At any rate New York should not permit it to interfere with her popularity, prosperity and prospects. We rather think it won't. Naturally, Gotham wants the country to "watch New York grow," for that metropolis lacks a long ways of being a finished town. We can yet see some possibilities and opportunities ahead for New York, so why should she worry?

What riles New York, however, is what the Washington correspondent of the Journal of Commerce has informed his paper about. He says:

"Bitter antagonism to New York city and sectional prejudice against that place, due to its preponderating position in the commercial life of the country, is admittedly an important if not a controlling force in Federal political life today. Wiser leaders of the Democratic party still hope to curb this disposition on the part of the minor politicians, but thus far have been obliged to temporize with it. Their efforts up to date have barely sufficed to prevent outbreaks in legislation and whether they can keep up their endeavors is an open question."

All this is attributed to the "well-defined growth of populism in both parties." It seems that the spirit of populism has come back specially to haunt New York. It will hardly prevent New York from going right on being what she is, although in the future she should be more careful with herself. She should sit up and take notice of what is said in an editorial in the Journal of Commerce, of which the following is the introduction:

"While the 'bitter antagonism' and 'sectional prejudice' against New York so frequently and violently displayed by representatives of the West and South, as described in our Washington correspondence yesterday, is extreme and unreasonable, and is calculated to distort views and pervert judgment in National conduct and thereby do much harm, it is not wholly without provocation. The pre-eminence of New York as the chief seaport and center of commercial and financial activity of the country, with its consequent wealth, may excite envy, jealousy and all uncharitableness, but this would be disarmed if the power derived from its advantageous position and large development were always exercised with a high sense of justice and due regard, on the part of those who wield it, for the rights and legitimate interests of others. That which has given it a 'bad name' in the estimation of those little acquainted with it has been greatly magnified and distorted, so as to overshadow it with a sinister aspect from a distance and conceal what is really most characteristic of its everyday life, but that is only what such blots and blurs are apt to do for communities as well as for individuals."

Of course, everybody ought to understand that the city of New York is not responsible for everything that occurs there. In a city of 5,000,000 population things will happen that hurt the reputation of the town, just in like proportion as the suburbs several hundred miles away are affected by what occurs in their midst. In proportion, New York probably is not any worse than some very small towns, but the city has its big problems in much greater proportion than the average community. They are for New York to handle the best she can, partially along the lines hinted at by the Journal of Commerce. Meanwhile, New York, it must be admitted is bound to hold its own as the nation's greatest commercial and financial center. Her sensitiveness is a good sign but criticism of her may do her good in a way that would even be pleasing to New Yorkers.

PRODUCING CITIES

The city that produces grows. The city that consumes and does not produce is a soft snap for the producing city. A city that does not produce more than it consumes will have the balance of trade against it. It spends its force in supporting the cities that are producing and growing. Those cities which are producing are growing faster than those cities which are not producers. There is a reason for it. It is because the consuming cities are customers and patrons of the producing cities.

The only way a city can become a producing city is to engage in manufacturing on diversified lines. It would pay Wilmington to make a close study of her manufacturing opportunities, and especially that branch of manufacturing that will furnish manufactures for export. Water will be turned into all sections of the Panama canal in about thirty days, according to present prospects, and in about a year's time the new route for inter-ocean steamship service will be inaugurated. The opening of traffic with the Latin countries of Central and South America, with the Pacific countries, and with the Orient, will emphasize the advantage of the ports for manufacturing for the export trade. With about fifty miles of water front on the Cape Fear ocean gateway, Wilmington and Southport possess unequalled adaptabilities for manufacturing. Factories can be located on a harbor 30 miles long and have the advantage of water and rail transportation at their doors.

We don't know of a locality that has such a great advantage, and if there are any we would like to have them pointed out on the map. Wilmington has unique advantages and it is time we were taking advantage of them ourselves or taking some definite step to attract the attention of others to the fact. Better work can be done to promote the development of Wilmington than can be done for any other city, because the natural advantages are here and only need to be exploited in the proper way to impress the world with the fact.

At this ocean gateway we have steamship and rail service paralleling each other for more than 30 miles, and we ought not to have that great advantage without doing something with it. What would other cities do with Wilmington's water and rail facilities for manufacturing and distribution at a port just a step inside the ocean gateway of the steamers going to all parts of the world?

Editor R. Don Laws, of the Yellow Jacket, writes to the Charlotte News to make a correction in his obituary, recently published in that paper. He thinks it is generally correct, except that he wasn't dead as alleged. No doubt Editor Laws is glad to be able to deny the rumor that he had shuffled off this mortal coil. This means that the stinger of the Yellow Jacket is still in commission.

The doctors interested in promoting the "Better Babies" movement, have pronounced a Georgia baby to be a perfect specimen of the race. However, the kid will have to reach the state of manhood before it can be ascertained whether he will turn out to be a pitcher, batter or hoe hand.

The Greenwich observatory claims that the telescope reveals 673,459,242,866,578,003 stars. Some scientists doubt it, but the man who has stepped on the russet hull of a scuppernong grape lying on a pavement is satisfied in his own mind that the Greenwich people have made no mistake.

Some times ago The Star advocated the organization of Street Associations. If the people along some streets would organize an association they might get the grass and weeds cut along the streets. Flower plots ought to grow where the weeds seem to flourish. How about your street?

CURRENT COMMENT.

A Rowan county, North Carolina, citizen named Grubb was effectively shot by a wife whom he had attacked with a knife. Evidently the extra "b" was a superfluous adornment.—Columbia State.

There seems to be a rapidly growing sentiment over the State in favor of refusing the proposed reductions of the railroads unless their plans give us what we have been contending for all the while. If the people would only realize it, they have it in their power to make the railroads come to their terms, and if they will stick together this can be done.—Greenville Reflector.

Whatever else may be said of Henry Clay Grubb, whose awful end is chronicled in the news column of today's paper, he was, during his last years at least, a public spirited citizen. His bad qualities will undoubtedly be given sufficent prominence in the investigation into his death; therefore it is no more than just to call attention now to the fact that he took the lead in every progressive move in Boone township, Davidson county, where his home was. Boone, by reason of its small population, was once one of the most backward townships in the county, and if it does not occupy that position today the credit is due in large measure to Clay Grubb. The dead man was indisputably guilty of many things which were questionable, to put it mildly; but at the same time there are many men who condemn him utterly who might themselves do well to take a leaf out of his book, in its chapter of civic pride. When it came to such things as education, better roads and better farming Clay Grubb was a power, and while fearful crimes have been laid at his door—and properly so—in many of these civic matters he made a much better record than many men whose social standing was infinitely higher.—Greensboro News.

While there has been illicit distilling in this county, it has been on the quiet and nothing serious has resulted, but things are growing worse. Informers in other counties fare badly, but in Guilford if there have been any little was said or done about it. Some weeks ago Sheriff Stafford found a still buried in the ground in the Jamestown section. The inference, of course, was that some one had told him where to find it. Yesterday a man supposed to be mixed up in giving the sheriff information, was assaulted by a man supposed to be the owner of the still. When the assaulted man ran he was shot at four times, so the story goes. Soon thereafter this man's brother was in the locality and he was shot at. He came to town and about 8 o'clock last night the sheriff went out with a posse and arrested two men charged with the offense and brought them to the city where they gave bond. The significance of this proceeding is that violtaors of the law are resorting to the tactics so long pursued in the mountain counties. The idea is to terrify whole communities by making it dangerous for any one to give them away. The practice should be nipped in the bud at once. This county is not going to tolerate any such high handed methods.—Greensboro Record.

WANTED PHYSICIAN FOR CORONER.

To the Editor of The Star:

What seems to be the matter with our Board of County Commissioners, or at least with four of them? Is it the heat, or have the thunder clouds affected them?

My reason for asking is this: Why did they elect a layman for coroner? Have the doctors all left town? Or are they too busy fighting typhoid fever and hookworms to accept the position of coroner? Mr. Fowler was one of the best mayors Wilmington ever had, and a good chief of police, but I don't think Mr. Fowler will be a good coroner. Of course, I understand that it is not legally necessary to elect a doctor for coroner, and I am certain that Mr. Fowler is able to tell a dead person from a live one, but I doubt that he or any other ordinary layman could tell by looking at a dead person what caused his death.

It seems to me, and with several other people with whom I have been talking, that those County Commissioners who voted for Mr. Fowler simply did vote for him to give him some kind of office, being as he has held office, Oh! ever so long! The people of New Hanover county elected the new Board of Commissioners to stop such practice. If the County Commissioners want to pension off old politicians, I suggest that they build cottages on the County Farm and furnish to each needy politician a cottage, and board which could be cooked in the main building, and, say, 30 cents a day spending money. That ought to keep them and their followers quiet.

If our County Commissioners lack the power to carry out this suggestion, I wish to call their attention to the fact that the Legislature will meet next month and they can have a bill passed granting them the necessary power.

Remember, Mr. Editor, we need and must have the best men we can get to fill the different public offices.

Thanking you for giving me this space, I am, Yours truly,

WM. CROWNSTREAM.

THE BURIAL OF GRUBB

Between Four and Five Thousand Attend Funeral Sunday

Spencer, N. C., August 11.—The funeral of H. Clay Grubb, slain by his wife when he attacked her murderously while under the influence of whiskey Saturday morning, was held yesterday, and was attended by between four and five thousand people from half a dozen surrounding counties. The interment was in the Grubb cemetery in Boone township, Davidson county.

Many of the huge crowd were drawn by morbid curiosity and there was some disorder and drinking, and the unseemly conduct caused Mrs. Grubb a great deal of annoyance and suffering. She is still in a precarious condition, being more severely wounded by her husband in his attack upon her, than at first supposed.

A tragic incident of the final service was the carrying of the husband's body to her room where she could look for the last time upon the features of him whom she had murdered, in defense of her own life. Sentiment is all for her, not only the coroner's jury but the public generally feeling that she did no more than she should have done under the circumstances. There is much sympathy for her.

Rev. V. E. Swain, of Lexington, a Baptist minister, conducted the funeral services. The Salisbury Elks, of whom the deceased was a member, acted as pallbearers and made beautiful floral offerings.

Proper Thing Now Is to Peel Off Soiled Skin

(From Beauty's Mirror.)

Those who abhor sticky, greasy, shiny, streaked complexions should religiously avoid creams, powders and rouges these heated days. There's no need for them, anyway, since the virtues of mercolized wax have become known. No amount of perspiration will produce any evidence that you've been using the wax. As it is applied at bedtime and washed off in the morning, the complexion never looks like a make-up. Mercolized wax gradually takes off a bad complexion, instead of adding anything to make it worse. It has none of the disadvantages of cosmetics and accomplishes much more in keeping the complexion beautifully white, satiny and youthful. Just get an ounce of it at your druggist's and see what a few days' treatment will do. Use like cold cream.

Another effective summer treatment—heat tending to cause wrinkles and flabbiness—is a skin tightener made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. Its use (as a face bath) leaves no trace.

DON'TS ON RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is stubborn as a mule. Hangs on like a leech, wears you out, worries you with pain, drags your vitality, depresses your mind and health. DON'T give up to it. DON'T let it hang on. DON'T overlook Foley Kidney Pills. They are a natural enemy to the conditions that cause rheumatism, which they will promptly remove.—R. R. Bellamy.

The Farmer's Prosperity

During the past ten years the Farmers of the country have come into their own. They have grown somewhat larger crops by intensive methods, but the real reason of their prosperity is that they have handled their affairs more carefully and have become Business Men as well as Farmers.

A prime requisite in the proper handling of a Farmer's business is a checking account at the Bank. No merchant would try to conduct his business without a checking account, and no Farmer should try to do so.

No Races Today.

Brave fire laddies to the number of 500 or 600 are here for the 26th annual convention and tournament of the North Carolina State Firemen's Association, which begins today and continues through Friday. Every section of the State is represented and the visitors have been given a royal welcome—a true Wilmington welcome—and their stay in "the city by the sea" will be made as pleasant as it is possible to make it. Many of the visitors are known personally to hundreds of Wilmingtonians, having visited this city at former tournaments, and their stay will be made all the more pleasant on account of this fact.

The city has been very attractively decorated for the visitors, flags and bunting waving from the fronts of the stores in the down town district, and it is expected that residences along the route of the parade will also be decorated. The visitors are scattered, some stopping in the city at hotels, boarding houses and private homes, while others are on the beach. A great many of the visitors expect to spend about 10 days at Wilmington and the beach and some are accompanied by members of their families.

The firemen began arriving Sunday and incoming trains yesterday, several hundreds of the fire laddies from all sections of the State. Last night Winston-Salem's delegation, which is the largest of any city in the State, arrived 40 strong. Companies from Salisbury and Asheville also arrived last night. The total attendance will be between 500 and 600.

The first business session will be held at the Court House this morning at 11 o'clock. This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock there will be another business session at the Court House after which the delegates will be given a complimentary ride to Wrightsville Beach by the Tidewater Power Company. Tonight there will be a business session in the Oceanic Hotel assembly hall, Wrightsville Beach, when the annual election of officers will take place.

The meeting this morning will be opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Wm. H. Milton, rector of St. James' Episcopal church, after which the firemen will be formally welcomed to the city and to Wrightsville Beach by Mayor P. Q. Moore, of Wilmington, and Mayor Thos. H. Wright, of Wrightsville Beach. Fire Chief A. M. Clark, of Southern Pines, second vice president of the convention, will make the response. The ladies are cordially invited to attend the meeting. The sessions this afternoon and tonight will be devoted to matters of interest to the firemen.

The Parade.

Tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock the firemen will give their parade which is one of the big events of the tournament. The parade will form in front of the City Hall and will proceed north up Third street to Red Cross, thence down Red Cross to Front, thence south on Front street to Market, thence east to Third street and back to the City Hall. All companies who take part in the contest for prizes are required to be in the parade, and the order is determined by the prizes won last year, the first prize winners going first. After the parade the firemen will be taken on an automobile ride over the city and suburbs.

The Contests Begin.

Tomorrow afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, there will be held the State races, these consisting of hand reel contests, grab reel contests, horse hose wagon contests and the hook and ladder contest. These contests will take place on Fifth street, between Chesnut and Walnut streets. The grandstand has been built on Fifth street, between Grace and Walnut streets, so that occupants can have a full view of all the races. Prizes to the amount of $800 will be given the winners.

Thursday will be observed as a day of recreation in order to give all visitors a chance to spend the day at the seaside resorts. A special trip will be made by the steamer Wilmington, touching all points on the lower Cape Fear river, including Fort Caswell and a trip to sea. Special attractions will be provided at Wrightsville Beach also.

Inter-State Events.

Friday morning beginning at 9:30 o'clock the Inter-State contests will take place, these being given on Fifth street, between Chesnut and Walnut streets. There will be hand reel, grab reel and horse hose wagon contests. The total amount of prize money offered for these contests is $700.

The Tidewater Power Company has made arrangements for entertaining the firemen in a royal manner at Lumina. Tonight there will be fireworks which will no doubt be greatly enjoyed by a large number. There will also be moving pictures and dancing. Tomorrow night the firemen's souvenir ball will be given. Thursday night there will also be music, dancing and moving pictures.

A special feature Thursday night will be the bucket brigade race open to all companies and individuals. Cash prizes will be given the winners. The race will take place in front of Lumina.

The Companies Here.

Among the companies that are here for the tournament are the Atlantic Hose Co., Newbern Company No. 1, Riverside Company and the Fourth Ward Company from Newbern; Northside and Westside Hose Companies from High Point; Morehead City hose team; Morganton reel team; Statesville hose team; Fayetteville hose team; Kinston hose team; Southside and Salisbury companies from Salisbury; Chapel Hill hose company; Spencer hose team and Spencer shop team from Spencer; Salem reel team, and Winston-Salem hose companies from Winston-Salem; Goldsboro hose team and fire engine; Henderson hose team; Asheville hose team, and Concord hose team.

The following towns have delegates but no contesting companies: Charlotte, Raleigh, Mt. Airy, Rocky Mount, Fremont, Hickory, Greenville.

The hose team from Florence, S. C., arrived last night and the team from Sumter, S. C., is expected to arrive tonight. There will be several other South Carolina teams which will participate in the inter-State contests Friday morning. They will arrive later in the week.

Riverside Team.

The Riverside "laddies" from Newbern arrived in the city Sunday in good time for the tournament, and started the fun yesterday by diking themselves up in country style with red bandanas and other paraphernalia of like nature. They raided a department store and got a half dozen parasols, the kind the ladies use at Wrightsville Beach, beautiful silky things supposed to keep the sun off but don't, and then started on a parade over the city. They also captured a few cow bells to furnish the noise. One gentleman thought that a show had come to town and began to make inquiries as to where it would be given. He was told that it was a continuous performance and all he had to do to see the fun was to keep his eyes open.

ANNUAL STATE GUN SHOOT

Many Expert Shots Here for North Carolina State Shoot Today and Tomorrow—State Championship Contest Today

A large number of expert shots from all sections of the State as well as a number of professionals, representing several fire arms companies, arrived in the city yesterday and last night to take part in the annual gun shoot of the State association which will be held here today and tomorrow under the auspices of the New Hanover Gun Club at its grounds at 17th and Castle streets. Mr. George Boylan, president of the local club, and Dr. J. H. Dreher, secretary, have charge of the arrangements and the entertainment of the visitors.

The shoot begins this morning at 9 o'clock with a special event for the championship of North Carolina, this consisting of 100 target shots from the 61-yard line, in strings of 25. A gold medal will be awarded the winner. There will also be ten other events today for which there will be over $100 in prizes given. Tomorrow morning there will be ten other events, and an extra event for amateurs, a trophy to be given to the high man. Over $100 in prizes will also be given for these events.

The local beach cars will stop at the grounds of the gun club for the shoot, and visitors are cordially invited to go down and see some shooting by crack shots.

Yesterday afternoon a practice shoot was held on the grounds which was participated in by a large number of visitors. The scores made are as follows:

TWO MEN MANGLED BY TRAIN

Bodies of Judson and Matthew Garriss, of Watha, Found Sunday Morning on Railroad Track—Former Died Here Sunday

The bodies of Judson and Matthew Garriss, two young men who lived near Watha, were found Sunday morning by a small boy on the railroad track near Willard in a horribly mangled condition. The body of Judson Garriss was lying on the side of the track where it had evidently been pitched by a passing engine. He was still living, however, and was brought to Wilmington to the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where everything possible was done to save his life, but to no avail and he passed away Sunday night at 8:45 o'clock.

The body of Matthew Garriss was cut entirely in halves by the wheels of the passing train. The mother, Mrs. A. V. Garriss, and his brother-in-law came to Wilmington with Judson Garriss but were not present when he died. The body was taken to the undertaking parlors of the M. H. Brimmer Co. and prepared for burial. It was taken to the home near Watha yesterday and the funeral and burial of the young men took place there in the afternoon.

Matthew Garriss was 21 years of age, and Judson Garriss was about 20 years old. They were first cousins and worked on the railroad as section hands.

From what could be learned yesterday it appears that they were both in Willard Saturday night and apparently having a good time. They talked with a number of friends, and late in the evening started down the railroad towards their home. Nothing more was heard from them until they were found Sunday morning. It is supposed that they were struck by the engine on passenger train No. 91 which passed that point about 12:30 Sunday morning.

They were evidently lying on the track when they were struck, but how they came to be in this position is not known. It was reported yesterday that several persons in Willard heard noises like pistol shots in that direction some time before the train passed. Some advance the theory that they may have been shot and robbed and then placed upon the track in order to cover up the crime. Whether or not they had any money is not known.

MUNICIPAL ASSOCIATION

Annual Convention Will be Held at Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The annual convention of the Carolina Municipal Association will be held at the Oceanic Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. There are a number of topics of general interest to be discussed and it is believed that the attendance will be large. Mayor C. A. Bland, of Charlotte, is president, and Mr. O. P. Shell, of Dunn, is secretary.

The convention will open on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, being called to order by the president. Addresses of welcome will be made by Mayor P. Q. Moore, of Wilmington, and Mayor Thos. H. Wright, of Wrightsville Beach, while the response will be made by Hon. O. B. Eaton, of Winston-Salem. Mayor Eaton is one of Winston-Salem's finest speakers and he will be heard with much interest "down by the sea." The formalities over the convention will hear an address on "How North Carolina Cities and Towns Can Secure Lower Fire Insurance Rates," by Hon. Alex. J. Feild, of Raleigh, then Mayor T. J. Murphy, of Greensboro, will speak on "The Commission Form of Government." No doubt many Wilmington citizens will go down for this session, especially to hear the address of Mayor Murphy, who will probably tell some of the experiences of Greensboro with the new form of government.

There will be no afternoon session and the visitors will employ their time for the remainder of the day as they see fit.

The first thing on the programme for Friday morning is an address by Mayor Fred N. Tate, of High Point, who will speak on "The Unjust Discrimination in Freight Rates and How it Affects Us." He is president of the Just Freight Rate Association. Dr. W. S. Rankin, of Raleigh, secretary of the State Board of Health, will speak on "Fundamental Municipal Public Health Policies." Mr. Chase Brenizer, city attorney of Charlotte, will discuss the topic, "What Amendments to the Constitution Would be Most Beneficial to Municipalities."

From 6 to 7:30 P. M. an automobile ride over the city of Wilmington will be given complimentary to the visiting Mayors.

Saturday there will be two addresses as follows: "Law Enforcement," Judge John A. Oates, Fayetteville; "The Sanitary Requirements for Community Life," J. L. Ludlow, civil engineer, Winston-Salem. Then will come report of committees, election of officers, selection of next meeting place and meeting of executive committee. Saturday night a souvenir dance will be given at Lumina in honor of the visitors.

SUIT AGAINST MRS. NICHOLS

Civil Action Started in Superior Court Yesterday by Mrs. Helene P. LeMassena—$27,000 Sum Asked.

Civil action was brought in Superior Court yesterday at noon by Mrs. Helene P. LeMassena, of Philadelphia, against Mrs. Elizabeth VanB. Nichols, formerly a leader of society in Wilmington, where she was very popular, in which the plaintiff seeks to recover $27,000 of the defendant. A warrant of attachment was issued and will be served. Household and kitchin furniture in this city belonging to Mrs. Nichols will be attached. The case is made returnable September 8th, which is the first day of the next term of Superior Court in this county.

The complaint in the case is brief, and is as follows:

"That the defendant is indebted to plaintiff in the sum of $27,000 for money advanced by plaintiff to the defendant for the purpose of investment and the purchase of certain stocks and bonds.

"That the defendant has wilfully, wrongfully and fraudulently converted the said sum of money to her use and has misapplied the same and refuses upon demand to pay or return the same.

"That demand was made upon the defendant before the institution of this action for the payment of the said sum, and no part of the same has been paid, except a small amount of jewelry and silverware, which was sold for about $300, for which the defendant is entitled to a credit of said amount.

"That the said amount has been due from time to time since the year 1909, but the plaintiff did not discover the wrongful and fraudulent conversion of the same, and the refusal to account for and return the same, until about the 1st of January, 1913.

"Wherefore the plaintiff prays judgment for $27,000 and interest from January 1st, 1909."

The plaintiff in the action is represented by John D. Bellamy & Son.

At the last term of Superior Court three indictments were returned against Mrs. Nichols, charging her with embezzlement of funds belonging to Mrs. LeMassena, the aggregate amount named in the three bills being about $15,000. Mrs. Nichols left Wilmington some months ago, and is said to have entered a sanitarium in Virginia for treatment, later going to New York. At the time of her departure she lived on South Front street, between Ann and Nun, and her home was handsomely furnished.

During the past few days the furniture has been removed from the residence, which has been rented to other parties, and has been stored.

As stated, the furniture will be attached today by the sheriff. The present whereabouts of Mrs. Nichols is not known in Wilmington, except, perhaps to some of her intimate friends.

Furnished Pineland School

The Sterchi-Bancroft-Rich Co., large furniture dealers of Wilmington, was given the contract for furnishing throughout the Pineland School for Girls, located at Salemburg, N. C., nine miles from Roseboro. The firm furnished the dormitories, dining rooms, kitchens, etc., the contract amounting to more than $3,000. The contract was secured by Mr. A. D. Rich, a member of the firm.

THE RURAL PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Report of County Superintendent on Sanitary Condition of the Buildings—Routine Matters Before Board.

The principal matter before the County Board of Education in regular monthly session at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon was the report of Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, superintendent of health, on the sanitary conditions of the rural schools of the county as shown by detail reports made by Dr. John Thames, assistant superintendent of health, who, with Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of public instruction, visited all the school buildings and made a thorough examination of the premises.

The report showed a condition that the Board of Education has known for some time exists, namely, that due to the surface wells and surface closets, the sanitary surrounding of most of the schools is far from what it should be. However, the Board of Education is making progress in improving these conditions, some four or five deep wells have been provided at as many schools in the past two or three years, and others are to be bored as soon as the finances will permit. Steps will be taken at once to secure sanitary closets at the schools and a resolution was adopted asking Dr. Nesbitt to furnish the board with designs and specifications and estimated costs of these, also for any other improvements he may have in mind that are needed from a purely sanitary standpoint. This resolution will be transmitted by him today and he will likely furnish the information desired by the latter part of the week. The report of Dr. Nesbitt follows:

"I beg to submit herewith the reports submitted to me by Dr. John Thames covering the detail of his examination of the schools of this county, together with my recommendations for the improvement of the sanitary conditions in and about these schools.

"The sanitary grading of these schools, dealing with the entire group, using as a basis the method adopted by the sanitary survey of the Southern States, gives a grading for the rural schools of New Hanover county of but 9.7 on the scale of 100. In 21 schools, we find the extremely dangerous combination of a surface privy and a surface pump. This combination secures for the pupils of these schools a probability that the entire student body will share alike, the direct intestinal infections that may be present among them. Such infections as may not be transmitted readily from pupil to pupil, through the agency of flies and contact with exposed excrement, will be conveyed through the water supply by gravity draining. In this way the rural schools serve most admirably the purpose of physical standardization at a very low point.

"As the first step for the correction of this condition, I recommend the immediate installation of screened receptacle privies. Wherever it is possible, double cement pits should be provided, of sufficient capacity to contain the entire collection of excreta for the school session. These cement pits should be built upon the L. R. S. principle, providing sufficient pipe drains for the liquid effluent from the secondary tank, to carry it well beyond the area of contact with the pupils. Water supplies should be provided by the use of driven wells extending below the first or second stratum of rock.

"The schools for the whites in districts 9 and 6 and the schools for negroes in districts No. 3 and 6, have but one closet. In districts Nos. 11, 7, 15, 5, 8 (both schools), 4 and 6, closets are located in a part of the woodhouse. This practice provides double opportunity for excrement infections. All privies so located are entirely too close to the main school building and must be removed to a new site in all such instances, not less than 50 feet distant from the school.

"The school provided for the whites in district No. 4 has a large cellar beneath the building which is one-third filled with water. As it will be impossible to drain this cellar it must be pumped out and filled with clean, dry sand before the school building is used again.

"The school building provided for negroes in No. 4 is located in a low, wet spot which receives drainage from all directions. This building should be moved to a high, well drained location. If the grounds were surrounded by a deep ditch it might be possible to continue this building for school purposes.

"The school building provided for the whites in district No. 5 is also situated upon a low and badly drained spot. The situation of this spot will permit of draining by the use of suitable ditches. These must be provided.

"The school building for the whites in district No. 9, Fort Fisher, is hereby condemned as totally unfit for use as a school.

"About 75 feet from the school building in district No. 13 is a pond of water which can be removed by filling its area to level of the surrounding ground.

"The building provided in district No. 17 at Winter Park, is most excellent in every respect excepting the means of ingress and egress. This building has but one small door which opens in, leading from a ten-foot passageway. This passageway extends through the building and terminates in a blank wall. Another and larger door should be supplied in this wall, and both doors should open each way.

"The building provided for the use of whites in district No. 11, Scott's Hill, is hereby condemned as unfit for further use as a school building.

"Reference to the detailed report hereto attached shows a number of small repairs needed on various school buildings, such as broken glass and broken blinds. I would especially recommend that all so situated as to be subject to standing water in the immediate neighborhood, receive special attention.

"In conclusion, I beg to be permitted to state, that it is obvious that if schools are to fill their highest function, they must not only furnish competent instruction in the branches of school study, but they must furnish examples of correct living conditions, and above all they must furnish protection from possible sources of disease. With a sanitary grading of but 9.7 on a cale of 100, the schools of New Hanover cannot, by any stretch of the imagination, be considered safe places for assemblages of children for any purpose at any time."

A bid of $2,500 was received from Mr. C. B. Bellois for the Williston school property, corner Seventh and Ann streets, but action was deferred. Mr. G. T. Shepard was before the board with reference to some repairs needed to school buildings in his district. It was decided to employ an additional teacher in the colored school in district No. 8 at a salary of not exceeding $25 a month. Later another room will be added to the building. Mr. H. C. Blake was elected committeeman in East Wilmington in place of Mr. D. F. Klein, resigned. Rev. E. J. Harrill tendered his resignation as a committeeman at Seagate, but the election of his successor was left open.

A resolution was adopted requiring that in the future all High School vouchers be signed by the chairman and secretary of the joint committee of districts No. 1 and 2 and countersigned by the county superintendent of public instruction.

It was decided to hold a teachers' institute for one week. There will be an institute for white and one for colored.

J. O. Carr, Esq., chairman, presided with the other two members, Messrs. J. G. L. Gieschen and B. Solomon, in attendance, also Prof. Catlett and County Auditor Orrell.

Members of the board discussed the question of buying school sites and making other contracts for improvements, but decided it would be unwise to make any contracts of any kind until after bids for the school bonds have been opened on August 18th, for until that time the board will not know whether or not it will have any money with which to make the contemplated improvements.

BODY TO GREENSBORO

Remains of Young George Benson Taken There for Interment

The body of George Benson, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Benson, of Greensboro, who was drowned at Fort Caswell last week and recovered Saturday afternoon, was brought up to the city on the steamer Wilmington Sunday afternoon and taken yesterday morning to Greensboro, where the funeral and interment will take place. The body was accompanied to Greensboro by the lad's father, who came to Wilmington in response to a message telling him of the boy's trgic death.

The scene at Fort Caswell as the body was being removed to the steamer, was a very touching one. Escorted to the boat by officers and privates of the Greensboro company, of which young Benson was a member, in full uniform, the body was taken aboard the vessel as the post band rendered a funeral dirge, after which "Nearer My God To Thee," was played. The many friends of the Benson family in this city tenderly sympathize with them in their bereavement.

The Value of a Beginning

TOO many people look down on small beginnings. They think they will open a Savings Account when they get a hundred dollars. We have seen a good many more really substantial savings accounts developed from a start of One Dollar and a determination to get ahead, than from hundred dollar starts without the determination. We like these small beginnings. They show the true saving spirit. Open that account today. We pay three per cent. interest on Savings.

Wrightsville Beach

Mr. and Mrs. Horace W. Phillips, of Suffolk, Va., are spending some time at the Seashore Hotel.

Miss Florence K. Spivey and attractive children, Annis, Ruth and Billey, returned home yesterday, after a two weeks' stay at Seaside Inn.

Many cottages as well as guests of the hotel heard the very delightful concert at the Oceanic Hotel Sunday at noon. The concert was greatly enjoyed by all.

Sunday's Raleigh News and Observer: "Mrs. W. R. Terry and three daughters, accompanied by Miss Lena Hood, left Saturday for a visit to Wilmington and Wrightsville Beach."

Yesterday's Greensboro News: "B. T. Baynes left yesterday for Burlington, where he will spend a few days with his parents before going to Wrightsville Beach, where he will spend his vacation."

The resort hotels and boarding houses entertained the usual large crowds over Sunday. There were a large number of Sunday visitors at the beach, hundreds coming in from nearby towns to spend the day.

During the concert at the Seashore Hotel Sunday morning Mrs. W. C. Jarnigan, of Atlanta, yielded to the request of many friends and rendered several very pleasing solos. She has a fine soprano voice and she has been heard with much pleasure on several occasions during the Summer.

Weather conditions made it necessary to postpone the fireworks exhibition that was scheduled to take place at Lumina last night. It began to rain just at the hour the exhibition was to have started. If the weather conditions are favorable the exhibition will be given tonight at 9 o'clock.

Mrs. Frank Pearson returned Sunday to her home in Atlanta after a stay of some weeks at the Seashore Hotel. Mrs. Pearson has many friends at the beach, where she has been a regular visitor for the past few Summers. She is a gifted soloist and filled engagements at Lumina and the Seashore Hotel while at the beach.

Sunday's Charlotte Observer: "Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Simms and small son will leave this morning for Wrightsville Beach where Mrs. Simms and baby will spend some time at the Summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Irwin, parents of Mrs. Simms. Mr. Simms will return to the city Monday."

Included in the week-end arrivals at the Hanover Inn were Mrs. G. Toon Meyer and Mrs. M. Levegue, Bolton; J. S. Lyell, King's Bluff; Edgar T. Hines, McLeansville; Fred S. Davis, Atlanta; C. Wolfe, Waxhaw; M. J. Hudson, Wadesboro; William Garrison, Ridgeway, Pa.; M. F. Crowley and J. H. Crowley, Charlotte; Louis Hummel, Goldsboro.

The Seaboard Air Line is advertising in Atlanta papers a rate of $6 from Atlanta to Wrightsville Beach and return, tickets on sale August 23rd and good returning any time within six days from date of sale. It is advertised that there will be "special trains sleepers and coaches." The special trains should arrive here Sunday, August 24th. The Seaboard is also advertising 15-day tickets on sale next Sunday for $9 round trip.

Among the week-end arrivals at the Oceanic Hotel were E. P. Leach, Atlanta; E. G. Starr, Bristol, England; E. Hodge, Jr., Henderson, Ky.; J. H. Jordan, Hamlet; J. T. Kankers, Milwaukee, Wis.; Peter P. Yates, Greensboro; Walter Hupp, Macon, Ga.; J. W. aHrlan, Atlanta; G. E. Raneke, Jr., Lumberton; A. E. Ahrens, Columbia, S. C.; Hugh E. White, L. A. Squires and S. B. Eetheridge, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Johnson and W. C. Owens, Aberdeen; C. P. Moore, Lexington; B. M. Ball, Tarboro; Paul Whitlock, Charlotte; J. Lewis Simpson and D. E. Jackson, Washington.

Among the week-end guests registered at the Seashore Hotel were H. B. Springs, Georgetown, S. C.; St. Julian L. Springs, Lake Waccamaw; Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Peters, Charlotte; Mrs. R. F. Phillips, Miss Grace Phillips, Mrs. H. R. Mason, Miss Florence Phillips, Miss Ida Lee Middleton and Miss Ada Flowers, Wilson; H. W. Loving, Atlanta; J. Evan Reese, Baltimore; Clifford Walker, Monroe, Ga.; William Walker Jones, Raleigh; Roy Smith, Timmonsville, S. C.; A. K. Morris, Concord; C. M. Parker, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. John Chipley, E. H. Williams and Paul Morris, Greenwood, S. C.; George M. Collier, Due West, S. C.

DROWNING TOO COMON

Greater Precaution Should be Taken by Those Going Into Water

"Three drownings in one week in the vicinity of Wilmington certainly is enough to make the most indifferent feel the need of greater precautions being taken by those who go into the water either for bathing or for fishing," remarked an observant citizen yesterday in speaking of the sad deaths of the two young men and the young lady whose lives were snuffed out last week in almost the twinkling of an eye by the strong currents of the ocean.

"In the first place," he continued, "there should be life lines provided at those places where public bathing is encouraged. I understand that lifesavers are on duty at all times when bathing is allowed, and that they are doing good service is shown by the fact that during the past week at Wrightsville Beach, I am reliably informed, there were at least seven persons who, had it not been for the lifesavers, would probably have gone down beneath the waves. Several of these were good swimmers but they overestimated their strength, and were unable to reach the shore against the strong undertow that has prevailed during most of the past week.

"With life lines the danger of drowning would be still further eliminated because, if the lifesavers should not be on duty, those in the water could then protect themselves against the treacherous undertow. And then if there should happen to be several in distress at the same time, which is easily possible, the lifesaver certainly could not attend to all at once. There would be some little cost to place these lines but where human life is at stake we cannot afford to stop to count the cost.

"Many people seem to have a natural fondness for getting into dangerous places," he went on to explain, "and instead of heeding the advice of those who are acquainted with the treacherous places in the ocean willingly and deliberately go into places even when told that they are dangerous. The other afternoon I was down at the Oceanic Hotel, and Lifesaver "Bill" Watson had considerable difficulty in restraining several from going into water which was known to be unsafe.

"Your average American citizen considers himself a free man, and does not like to listen to advice no matter with what good intentions it may be given. He considers the ocean all his own, and then after one gets used to it it seems to be so free from danger that he cannot believe that he will be drowned.

"Another thing that ought to be done, and that is people ought not to go into the ocean where there are not either life lines or life guards. I understand that there is no way to prevent by law persons owning cottages on the beach from using the surf in front of the cottages, but they certainly ought with the recent drownings that have taken place as a warning to see great danger of bathing where there is absolutely no protection.

"The sad tragedies that have happened in our very midst the past week ought to teach us a lesson, and we ought to see that stringent measures are taken for seeing that lives are not endangered. The public should be thoroughly informed through the papers and by signs placed on the various sign boards at the beaches the risk that those who go into surf take. We have been talking about this a long time now, but as was said last week at the freight rate meeting it is action that we want now."

SEPTEMBER JURY DRAWN

County Commissioners Held Short Session Yesterday Afternoon

The County Commissioners held a short session yesterday afternoon for the purpose of drawing the jury for the September term of Superior Court, and incidentally transacted a few wother minor items of business. Vice Chairman W. A. McGirt presided in the absence of Chairman Willard and Commissioners Kerr and Yopp were present, as were County Attorney Marsden Bellamy, Auditor Orrell and Clerk Williams.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Frank Williams, Colored, Sent to the Roads Six Months for Larceny

Either the hot weather or some other reason caused a number of negroes to imbibe too freely Saturday night, and there were a half dozen before the Recorder yesterday morning, charged with being drunk on the streets. There were also several up for cursing on the streets. They were all fined and taxed with the costs. Frank Williams, colored, charged with stealing a coat and a pair of trousers from Conley Williamson, was sent to the county roads for six months.

Will Woford, colored, said that he found a pistol on the public highway which he picked up and placed in his pocket, the same being concealed. An officer later arrested him for carrying a concealed weapon. He was fined $25 and the costs. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs in the case against Beverly Robinson, colored, charged with recklessly riding a bicycle on the streets, and running into an officer of the law at the same time. A nol pros with leave was taken in the case against Gould Nixon, colored, who was found asleep in the union station and arrested for vagrancy. He was able to show that he has a regular occupation.

Judgment was left open in the case of Mr. D. J. Prease, who was charged with having violated the sanitary laws of the city. The Recorder announced that he would make his decision in regard to the sign ordinance today.

The case against Foster Simpson, colored, charged with attempted criminal assault, was continued until Friday at the request of attorneys for the defense in order to get other witnesses.

HOW MRS. BROWN SUFFERED

During Change of Life—How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Her a Well Woman.

Iola, Kansas.—"During the Change of Life I was sick for two years. Before I took your medicine I could not bear the weight of my clothes and was bloated very badly. I doctored with three doctors but they did me no good. They said nature must have its way. My sister advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I purchased a bottle. Before it was gone the bloating left me and I was not so sore. I continued taking it until I had taken twelve bottles. Now I am stronger than I have been for years and can do all my work, even the washing. Your medicine is worth its weight in gold. I cannot praise it enough. If more women would take your medicine there would be more healthy women. You may use this letter for the good of others."—Mrs. D. H. BROWN, 309 N. Walnut St., Iola, Kan.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

SHARP ADVANCE IN COTTON

The Opening Followed by Reaction and Fresh Buying—Close Steady With Last Prices Three to Six Points Net Higher

New York, Aug. 11.—The failure of today's weather report to show rains in the Southwest, as predicted on Saturday, caused a sharp advance in the cotton market at the opening, but a flurry of covering was followed by reaction and fresh buying seemed to be restricted by reports of good rains in Arkansas, increasing new crop receipts and favorable crop advices from the Eastern belt.

The close was steady, with last prices three to six points net higher. Business was active early, and many of Saturday's sellers appeared to be buying back their contracts on reports that nothing more than a few light showers had fallen in Texas over Sunday. Cables were a shade better than due, which naturally contributed to the nervousness of recent sellers, and first prices were ten to eleven points above the closing figures of last week.

The first flurry of buying seemed to exhaust the immediate demand, however, while the market met considerable cotton above 11 cents for December and prices soon began to sag off. Business became less active on the decline, and after easing off to about the closing figures of Saturday the market was again steadied by covering, with the close showing rallies of 3 or 4 points from the lowest. Reports of good rains in sections of Arkansas, and an official forecast for unsettled weather in Oklahoma encouraged private predictions of a break in the Southwestern drouth.

The detailed weather reports showed continued high temperatures in both Oklahoma and Texas, with a few light showers in the Eastern part of the latter State, and noon weather reports showing no change in conditions helped the closing rally. Weekly reviews of the crop outlook generally, noted deterioration in the Western belt but claimed continued favorable progress east of the river.

WANT THIRTY-FOOT CHANNEL

Planned to Place Series of Jetties at Mouth of Cape Fear

Recently a number of conferences have been held between representatives of the North Carolina Waterways Association and the government engineering office with a view of having Congress authorize the deepening of the Cape Fear to a uniform depth of 30 feet at low water, and maintaining this depth by building a series of jetties at the mouth of the river. At present the river improvement bill provides for a uniform channel of 26 feet. At high tide there is a depth of 30 feet across the bar but the contemplated improvements would secure a depth of 30 feet at all times. There has been nothing done so far except preliminary examinations, but it is hoped to get the matter before Congress in a short time.

AS CORN CLUB MANAGER

T. E. Brown Appointed to Take I. O. Schaub's Position

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 11.—Authorities here are advised from Washington that T. E. Brown, of Ahoskie, Hertford county, has been appointed by the United States Agricultural Department to succeed I. O. Schaub as supervisor of the boys' corn club work in this State. He has been district manager for quite a while and wins a promotion.

STOCK MARKET SITUATION

Strength of Activity Gained in Final Hour of Trading, After a Session of Alternate Declines and Advances

New York, August 11.—After four hours of alternate declines and advances today's stock market took on an appearance of strength and activity in the final hour, transactions in that period more than equalling all the other hours of the session. The leader was United States Steel, in which large buying orders made their appearance. There was no news to account for the sudden inquiry for Steel.

The buying later comprehended Canadian Pacific, Union Pacific, St. Paul, Canadian Pacifics gain of almost four points preceded the declaration of the regular dividend.

While considerable realizing was seen in the later dealings, the market lost little of its advance, average gains extending from one to two points. Southern Pacific was almost the sole stock of prominence to show some backwardness.

London was listless and the virtual failure of another colonial underwriting project was accepted as proof that the British market for securities still is in congestion. A rise in rentes was the only feature of the Paris market and Berlin's bourse suggested a halting attitude.

The bond market was irregular, but it hardened towards the end in sympathy with stocks. Government bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,250,000. Total sales were 276,100, including American Tobacco, 100; C. and O., 2,000; L. V., 10,000; N. and W., 2,200; S. A. L., 100; do., pfd., 300; Southern Pacific, 27,300; Southern Railway, 1,000; T. C., 1,300; U. S. Steel, 84,100; V.-C. C., 900.

BAD BANK SHORTAGE.

With $5,000 Capital, Cashier is Behind $21,014.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Aug. 11.—Returning from East Bend this afternoon, State Bank Examiner S. A. Hubbard reports that he finds the shortage in the Yadkin Valley Bank at East Bend, closed Saturday, to be $21,014, of which $8,354 is the personal shortage of Cashier J. Lee Norman and $12,749 is in doubtful notes and checks.

Deposits aggregate $37,500 and the losses will be quite heavy, as indications are that efforts to reopen will fail in view of the very heavy shortage for a bank with only $5,000 capital.

Cashier Norman has neuralgia of the heart and is in quite a critical condition.

The highest bid received by the city council of Raleigh for the old municipal and market house building on Fayetteville street today was $90,575, by Cary K. Durfey, executor of the Tucker estate. All bids may be rejected and new sale ordered, as $110,000 was expected.

CRUISER PITTSBURGH

Ordered to Guaymas to Await Further Instructions

San Diego, Cal., August 11.—Radiograms received tonight from the United States warships patrolling the gulf of California, report that the armored cruiser Pittsburgh, which had started for San Diego with refugees, was ordered to return to Guaymas and remain there pending further instructions from the Navy Department.

The supply ship Glacier which was to have sailed today with refugees for San Diego and San Francisco, has been ordered to remain at Guaymas indefinitely.

CONVICTS WITHDRAWN

State Takes Away Gang from Col. S. A. Jones, Western Railroad

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., August 11.—The Council of State today finally withdrew the squad of convicts that has been working for a year or longer on the South Atlantic & Western, or Transcontinental Railroad, in Western Carolina, on account of the railroad company failing to meet the requirements of the State that the convict labor on railroads receiving such aid shall represent only one-third of the work actually in progress, and bond be given for completion.

CAN YOU DOUBT IT?

When the Proof Can be so Easily Investigated.

When so many grateful citizens of Wilmington testify to benefit derived from Doan's Kidney Pills, can you doubt the evidence? The proof is not far away—it is almost at your door. Read what a resident of Wilmington says about Doan's Kidney Pills. Can you demand more convincing testimony

W. L. Benson, 620 S. Second St., Wilmington, N. C., says. "My back ached nearly all the time and I could not straighten after stooping or lifting without having a sharp pain in my loins. Mornings when I got up, I was very lame and sore and I noticed that the kidney secretions contained sediment. Soon after I used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Bellamy's Drug Store, I felt better in every way, and it was not long before I was enjoying the best of health. My advice to anyone suffering from kidney complaint is to try Doan's Kidney Pills."

TRUSTEES' SALE.

Under and by virtue of the power conferred upon me in a deed of trust executed on the 13th day of June, 1911, by W. A. Simpkins and wife and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for New Hanover County in Book of Mortgages 64, page 427, and at the request of the holder of the note described in said deed of trust, I will, on Wednesday, the 20th day of August, 1913, at 12 o'clock, M., at the Court House door at Wilmington, North Carolina, sell for cash to the highest bidder the following described land:

First tract.—Beginning at the Southeast corner of a tract of land now in the possession of Mrs. Mills, on the North edge of the old Newbern road, and runs thence Eastwardly with the Northern edge of the said old Newbern road about 200 feet to the Southwestern corner of a tract of land now or lately in the possession of Mrs. Oldenbuttle, and thence with said Oldenbuttle's Western line North 3 deg. E. 2,000 feet to a stake; thence South 89 deg. W. about 200 feet to Mills' line; thence with Mills' line South 3 deg. W. to the beginning, containing 10 acres.

2nd. tract.—Beginning in the dividing line between Oldenbuttle's tract and the tract of D. N. Chadwick, the same being the Western line of a tract of land conveyed to Lilly M. E. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife, by deed dated the 27th of October, 1891, and registered in the office of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, in Book 8, page 422 et seq., and corrected by deed dated the 3rd day of May, 1894, and recorded in Book 13, at pages 344 et seq., of the records of the Register of Deeds of New Hanover County, at a point where said dividing line is intersected by the Northern line of the right of way of the connecting line between the Wilmington & Newbern Railroad, and the Wilmington & Weldon Railroad, and the said points being 600 feet Northwardly from the old Newbern dirt road, and runs thence Northwardly with said dividing line about 1,500 feet to the Northern line of the said tract; thence Eastwardly with the said Northern line 300 feet to the Eastern line of said tract; thence Southwardly with the said Eastern line to the right of way of said railroad; thence Westwardly with said railroad to the beginning, the same being all that part of a tract of land conveyed to the said Lilly M. E. Oldenbuttle by Steven W. Noble and wife as aforesaid, which is now lying North of the said connecting line of railroads, both of which said deeds, for more certainty of description, are made a part hereof.

3rd tract.—Beginning at W. H. Mills' Northwest corner of the Hardwick tract, 200 feet Westwardly from the pine stump marking the old Hardwick line, and runs thence Northwardly 4 deg. 30 min. East 746 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence South 88 deg. E. 1,034 84-100 feet to a stone marked D. N. C.; thence S. 4 deg. 30 min. West 886⅝ feet to a stone marked D. N. C. Wentzenstein's corner; thence North 86 deg. 30 min. W. with Wentzenstein's back line, and the back line of D. N. Chadwick, 926 13-100 feet to a stone in W. H. Mills' back line; thence North 4 deg. 30 min. East 146 feet to Mills'. Northeast corner, and thence North 85 deg. 30 min. West 408 71-100 feet to the beginning, containing 20 acres, more or less.

4th tract.—Beginning at a ditch bank at W. H. Mills' and D. N. Chadwick's corner of his 20-acre tract, a stone marked D. N. C.; thence North 40 deg. West 5 chains and 37 links to a stake near a water oak; thence North 45 deg. West 10 chains to a stake on a cart road; thence North 76¼ deg. West 11 chains and 96 links to a stake near a cedar tree on the East side of a neighborhood road; thence along the East edge of said road North 10 deg. 45 min. East 30 chains and 82 links to a cypress knee on the bank of the South side of Smith's Creek; thence up the various courses of said creek to a large cypress proposed new treasury notes would furnish the means by which speculators could hold the cotton and grain crops in storage for an indefinite period.

Friends of the administration bill as the result of today's opening session predicted that the caucus would approve the measure with few changes. Representatives Neely, Ragsdale and Eagle will lead a fight, however, for the adoption of the proposed agricultural amendments; and also for amendments to prevent inter-locking directorates of National banks, and to prevent banks from loaning money to their officers.

The caucus agreed to allow eight hours of general debate on the bill, one-half to be controlled by Chairman Glass and the other half by Representative Neely, of the "insurgent" forces. It is expected that the caucus will run throughout the week, as the bill will be read and debated section by section after the general debate is ended.

ATTACK STATE'S WITNESS.

Frank's Lawyers Attempt to Impeach Character of Dr. Harris.

Atlanta, Aug. 11.—A bitter attack upon Dr. H. F. Harris, secretary of the State Board of Health, and prominent witness for the State, featured today's session of the trial of Leo M. Frank for the murder of Mary Phagan, the little factory girl.

Dr. Willis Westmoreland, of Atlanta, a witness for the defense, testified that while a member of the State board of health, he had preferred charges of "scientific dishonesty" against Dr. Harris, which charges were sustained by the board. Dr. Westmoreland said that he resigned from the board when that body refused to discharge Dr. Harris. In reply to a question by Attorney Arnold, the witness declared he knew Dr. Harris to be the same man professionally now as when the charges were preferred. Dr. Harris had previously testified that the Phagan girl met her death within less than an hour after eating her lunch and that she had been criminally assaulted a few minutes before her death. It was in an effort to contravent this testimony that the defense introduced several physicians today as experts.

Attacking the professional ethics of Dr. Harris in having made an examination of the girl's body and an analysis of the contents of her stomach, without calling in another chemist or physician, and having later destroyed the stomach, Attorney Arnold asked Dr. Westmoreland if this was customary.

The witness answered in the negative, after Judge Roan had ruled the question admissable. The witness declared Dr. Harris' testimony was "pure guess work." Dr. T. N. Hancock, introduced as an expert, contradicted the conclusions of Dr. Harris, both as to the time of the girl's death and alleged assault. Dr. J. C. Olmstead offered testimony similar to that of Drs. Westmoreland and Hancock.

Joel Hunter, expert accountant, was the last witness called by the defense today. He testified that it would take a swift accountant over three hours to prepare the financial sheet said to have been made up by Frank on the day of the murder.

OFF TO RALEIGH

Committee Left Last Night to Attend Conference Today

Headed by Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the traffic committee of the Chamber of Commerce, and president of the New Hanover branch of the Just Freight Rates Association, who is about as conversant with freight rates as any person in the State, a large delegation of Wilmington citizens left last night for Raleigh to attend the conference in that city today on the proposal of the railroads for the adjustment of the rate question. J. O. Carr, Esq., a member of the committee, goes by the Seaboard, leaving here at 5 o'clock this morning.

The committee goes to Raleigh to protest against the proposal because it does not provide a relative reduction in rates for Wilmington and other tidewater points.

Many Visitors at Fort Sunday

Nearly 200 ladies and gentlemen from Wilmington went down to Fort Caswell Sunday on the steamer Wilmington to spend the day with the members of the Coast Artillery Corps of the North Carolina State Guard, encamped there for their annual maneuvers. Lunches were carried by those who went from the city and one of the enjoyable features of the day was a basket luncheon which was served on the grounds. Sunday was observed as a day of rest from their strenuous work of the week by the soldier boys, and they were glad to welcome the visitors and to enjoy the day with them.

THIN FOLKS MADE PLUMP

Samose Ideal Flesh Builder, Says Druggist J. Hicks Bunting

Thin people are simply suffering from want of nourishment!

If you are thin, it is because the food you eat is not assimilated and passes through the system without building up the flesh and tissue as it should.

You can readily get plump and rosy by using Samose, a tissue-forming food which, when taken with the meals, immediately becomes a flesh-building and life-giving element in the blood.

Samose builds up the system, puts flesh on the bones, brings back the glow of health to the pallid cheek and removes the tired and languid feeling which is the result of exhaustion and low vitality.

J. Hicks Bunting is introducing Samose to his customers and recommends it highly. He gives the best proof of his belief that Samose will do all that is claimed for it by offering to refund the money if it fails to increase the weight and restore good health.

MAY IMPEACH GOVERNOR

he said that he was away campaigning, and that he did not know of the campaign contributions omitted from his sworn statement. The Elkus check was endorsed by Sulzer personally, and he acknowledged the letter of Elkus transmitting it as a campaign contribution.

"We submit to the Legislature that it was false when William Sulzer swore that he had received only $5,460 of campaign contributions, and that he did so with full knowledge that he had received an amount many times that sum, and had converted the same to his private uses; that he used contributions given to aid in his election for the purchase of stocks in Wall Street, which he or his agents still hold; that he has been engaged in stock market speculation at the time that he, as Governor, was earnestly pressing legislation against the New York Stock Exchange, which would affect the buying prices of the exchange, and that there was evidence before this committee to sustain finding that as Governor he has punished legislators who opposed him by vtoing legislation enacted for the public welfare, and has traded executive approval of bills for support of his direct primary and other measures.

"There is in the possession of this committee further authentic information of other similar evidence in respect to the subject of this report as strong in quality and in the large amounts involved as that on which sworn testimony has already been given.

"This committee, therefore, has not completed investigation, either on this subject or others covered by the resolutions under which it is acting, but it has felt that the revelations set forth in this report and the testimony accompanying it should be brought to the attention of the Legislature at once, without awaiting a final report, either on this or other subjects.

"These questions herein involved are vital to clean government. They are above party or partisanship. They are vital to the citizens of the State and call for prompt and well considered action. They call for an answer from Governor Sulzer, because both his obstructive tactics and his silence warrant the conclusion that the charges can neither be answered nor explained."

The report is signed by James J. Frawley, chairman; Eugene Lamb Richards, counsel, and Matthew T. Horgan, secretary of the investigating committee. An epitome of the main evidence brought out before the committee prefaces its conclusions. The affidavit of Governor Sulzer accompanying his declaration that he received and spent only $5,430 directly or indirectly as candidate for Governor, is followed by the statement that the testimony shows a much larger sum to have been paid him for this purpose. This unaccounted for surplus included checks for $2,500 from Jacob H. Schiff and $500 from Abram I. Elkus, in addition to various amounts, including $500 from William F. McCombs, chairman, and $1,000 from Henry Morganthau, chairman of the Finance committee of the Democratic National committee which it is asserted that "no one can doubt" were contributed specifically for campaign purposes.

With refernce to Sarecky's refusal to testify concerning the account he opened as Sulzer's agent with the Mutual Alliance Trust Company, the report says that "it is, and was, the opinion of your committee from the answers of said witness and his demeanor on the stand, that his refusal to testify was at the instance and the direction of Governor Sulzer."

This account alone, the report says, contained $12,405 contributed for campaign expenses, or nearly $7,000 more than Governor Sulzer's sworn total.

Details given of Mr. Sulzer's alleged account with the stock brokerage firm of Boyer, Griswold & Company, engineered by Frederick L. Colwell, showing one transaction of $12,025. Of this $9,000 is said to have been in the form of a check from Mr. Sulzer on his campaign account with the Farmers' Loan & Trust Company, $100 is the check which Lyman A. Spaulding testified he had contributed for campaign purposes, and the committee finds that the other items were originally sent to Mr. Sulzer for the same purpose. It is estimated that the total currency deposited and paid out by Mr. Sulzer in various stock transactions between the dates of his nomination and inauguration amounted to $3,950.

"Your committee," says the report, "leaves to the Legislature the inference to be drawn from the disposition and use of this currency."

NEGRO LYNCHED BY MOB

Charged With Attempting Criminal Assault at Laurens

Laurens, S. C., August 11.—Rich Puckett made a denial of his guilt just with attempted criminal assault near here yesterday, was taken from the jail here at 1:30 o'clock this morning by a mob estimated to number 2,000 men, and hanged to a beam of a railway trestle, near the Laurens depot. Several hundred bullets were then fired into his body and the mob dispersed, leaving the body hanging to be examined by a coroner's jury today. Although Sheriff Owens is quoted as saying the negro confessed to him, ard Puckett, a young negro, charged before he was strung up by the mob.

SOME FISHING THIS.

Two Wilmington Gentlemen Catch 17 Drum in Two Hours Time.

Seventeen drum weighing from seven to 25 pounds caught in less than two hours time was the record made Saturday afternoon by Messrs. John R. Hanby and H. Lacy Hunt, two well known Wilmington anglers at Wrightsville Beach. Other gentlemen have been going to Rich's Inlet and Topsail Inlet and have made some fine catches there, but it remained for these gentlemen to make the banner catch of the season, so far, at Wrightsville. From early morning until late at night Sunday not less than 20 faithful followers of Isaac Walton kept the board walk on the northern extension hot for information asking, "What? Where? Tell me all about it, etc." But the anglers absolutely refused to divulge the source of their rabbit's foot, and smilingly informed their questioners that they would have to seek for themselves.

—Master Sam Lumley, son of Mrs. Z. T. Lumley, was attacked Saturday afternoon by a vicious dog and badly bitten about the face, his nose being perforated in one place. It was thought best to kill the dog and send the head to Raleigh for examination for rabies.

Dr. J. W. Hooper, superintendent of the James Walker Memorial Hospital who was operated on for appendicitis Saturday, was reported last night to be getting along fine, his many friends will be glad to learn.

go before the Inter-State Commerce Commission or other regular channel for contending over inter-State rates and make fights for still further concessions in whatever classes of freight that may be considered as still excessive.

Everybody except possibly politicians with some axe to grind, is hoping, even if against hope, that the differences between the railroads will be settled without any approach toward "retaliatory legislation" and serious complications that may come from attempts to force inter-State rate reductions through State legislation that can affect only intra-State matters.

BODY WAS RECOVERED.

Remains of Mr. John B. Turbeville Buried Yesterday Afternoon.

The body of Mr. John B. Turbeville, of Wilmington, who was drowned at The Rocks fishing grounds early Saturday afternoon, was recovered Saturday evening about 7 o'clock by Mr. J. M. Chadwick with a drum hook and line. The body was lying in about 18 feet of water in identically the same spot Mr. Turbeville was last seen alive. Mr. Chadwick said that there was no water in the body and that it was his opinion that Mr. Turbeville was dead when he was seen by his companions to go down. He never rose again.

Mr. Chadwick and two friends went down to the Rocks Saturday on a fishing expedition. Arriving there they learned of the tragic death of Mr. Turbeville and directed their efforts to a recovery of the body. They found it about 7 o'clock and started soon afterward for Wilmington in Mr. Chadwick's launch Lula, arriving here at 4 o'clock Sunday morning. Mr. M. H. Brimmer, who has been acting coroner, was notified and after hearing a statement of the facts deemed an inquest unnecesary. The body was then removed to the M. H. Brimmer Company's funeral parlors and prepared for burial and later removed to the family residence, No. 507 Bladen street.

The funeral services were held at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Brooklyn Baptist church, conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Sullivan, assisted by Rev. W. L. Rexford, pastor of Bladen Street Methodist church. There were present a large number of relatives and friends who gathered to pay a last sad tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased. Following the services at the church the body was taken to Bellevue cemetery. The services at the grave were conducted by the Maccabees, Mr. Turbeville having been a very active member of Cape Fear Tent, of this city, in which he carried $1,000 insurance. The pall-bearers were Messrs. L. A. Bangle, L. M. Grantham, E. H. Hudleston, J. E. Cowan, W. E. Beaton, Allen T. Lewis.

DIED SUDDENLY YESTERDAY.

Mr. H. K. Blats Passed Away at Home After Illness of One Hour.

The newspaper fraternity of Wilmington as well as a host of other friends in the city were greatly shocked yesterday afternoon when they heard of the sudden death of Mr. H. K. Blats, the oldest linotype operator in point of service on The Evening Dispatch, which occurred at his home, No. 705 South Front street, at 3:30 o'clock. He was apparently in his usual good health yesterday and was stricken by an attack of acute indigestion while operating his machine at 2:30 o'clock, soon after drinking a bottle of Coca Cola.

Medical aid was quickly summoned and Dr. Ernest Bulluck did all in his power to save his life. While still conscious he was removed from The Dispatch office to his home and died about 20 minutes after reaching there, passing away in the presence of his beloved wife and father.

Mr. Blats was a native of Newberry, S. C., and was 36 years old. He had been in the newspaper business all his life, having worked on newspapers in Newberry, Columbia, Charleston, and New York City. He came to Wilmington 11 years ago to take a position with The Dispatch as linotype operator, and had resided in the city since that time. He was a member of the Southside Baptist church. He was also a member of the Masons and the Woodmen of the World. He was a man of fine character and had many friends here and elsewhere.

He is survived by his wife and little daughter, Mary Jane, his father, Mr. W. H. Blats, of Newberry, S. C., who is here on a visit, and two brothers, Mr. J. A. Blats, of Columbia, S. C., and Mr. W. E. Blats, who is in the West.

The funeral probably will be held tomorrow afternoon, being delayed in order to give time for relatives to get here. The services will be held from the residence.

Progress Book.

Secretary Howard B. Branch, of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, has just issued "A Souvenir Edition of Wilmington Progress Book", complimentary to the North Carolina Firemen's Association. The booklet gives some interesting information about Wilmington and vicinity and on the back page s a complete programme of the firemen's convention and tournament.

Her many friends will be glad to learn that Mrs. L. Bluethenthal, who underwent an operation at the James Walker Memorial Hospital Saturday, was reported last night as getting along nicely.

FRANTIC WITH ECZEMA.

Itching and Burning Drive One Almost Mad.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Children and grown persons, too, are so often driven almost frantic with the intolerable itching and burning of eczema and other skin troubles, that a remedy which will not only secure their immediate comfort but also clear away the eruption in a short time, is nothing less than a public benefit.

It is remarkable that so mild and harmless an application as our new skin remedy, Saxo Salve, can stop the itching so quickly as it does.

And its penetrating healing power is even more remarkable, for improvement is seen after the first few days and the final results must satisfy the user or we refund the money.

If you have any itching or burning rash or humor of the skin, any scaly or chronic old skin trouble, Saxo Salve is what you need and you should try this splendid remedy. Robt. R. Bellamy, Druggist, Wilmington, N. C.

P. S. Eczema sufferers! We guarantee Vinol will purify and enrich the blood.

POLICEMEN RAID HACK

Got Keg of Whiskey but Owner Made His Escape Without Injury

There are all sorts of ways for getting whiskey into Wilmington but the latest method was discovered Saturday when Officers B. W. Jacobs and Frank George got wind of a keg of whiskey which had been shipped to Scott's Hill, and would be brought to Wilmington Saturday night by the owner. They "laid" for the hack and when it hove into sight at 17th and Castle streets they haled the driver and made him stop.

The other negro jumped out on the other side and made for the tall timbers. Officer Jacobs followed him and they both went into a ditch. The negro, who is described as a big, tall black-skinned fellow, got out first, and made his escape successfully. The officers are looking for him but have as yet found no clue as to his whereabouts.

The keg containing four gallons of whiskey was consigned to Charlie McKasey at Scott's Hill. Charlie McKasey or whatever his name may be, paid the hack driver $3.50 to take him over to Scott's Hill to get the keg. It is now on exhibition at police headquarters.

Death of Little Child.

Girty May, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whist Hufham, who live at No. 1017 South Second street, died Sunday afternoon at 7 o'clock. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon from the residence, conducted by Rev. Joseph P. King, pastor of the Second Adventist Christian church. The interment was at Bellevue cemetery. The bereaved parents have the tender sympathy of their many friends.
